Announcement in the State Budget
For all the Girls and Women of the State

Resolution of Free Distribution of Sanitary Napkins

"Menstruation is a normal natural process in women. Today we are living in the 21st century. Now we should openly discuss about menstruation. Women should talk about this in the family without any hesitation. We have started the scheme of free distribution of sanitary napkins. This scheme will prove to be an important step towards women empowerment."

Ashok Gehlot, Chief Minister, Rajasthan

Why sanitary napkins are important

Lack of awareness about menstruation exposes the backwardness and mental conservativeness of the society. Educating girls and women about menstruation and most importantly, easy availability of sanitary pads is a praiseworthy initiative.

Dr. Sudhir Bhandari
Vice Chancellor, Rajasthan University of Health Sciences, Jaipur

Not using sanitary napkins or pads during periods can lead to urine infection, cervix infection, infection in the fallopian tubes and ovaries, infertility (infertility) and even cervical cancer. The free distribution scheme of sanitary napkins the state government is no less than a boon.

Dr. Pushpa Nagar
Sr. Prof., Dept. of Gynaecology and Obstetrics, Sawai Man Singh Medical College, Jaipur

Rajasthan Sanwad

According to a study, about 62% of women in the country use cloth instead of sanitary napkins during their periods. Use of unhygienic items during periods can also lead to serious diseases like cancer. Therefore, it is very important to use of sanitary napkins.

12 Sanitary napkins per month are distributed free of cost to women through Anganwadi centres and Schools in the State

Unmarried women, marital rape brought under ambit of abortion

SHRUTI KAKKAR @NewDelhi

OPINING that the decision to carry pregnancy to its full term or terminate it is rooted in the right of bodily and decisional autonomy of woman, the Supreme Court in a landmark ruling on Thursday held that prohibiting unmarried or single women with pregnancies up to 24 weeks from accessing abortion while allowing married women to do so goes against the right to equality.

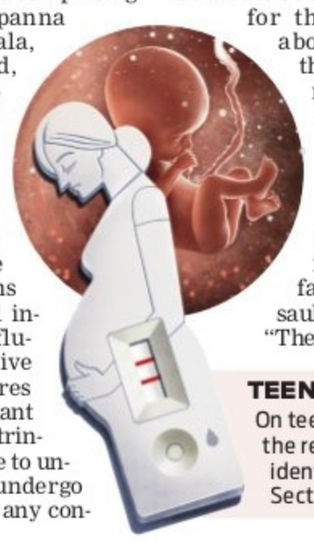
A bench led by Justice D Y Chandrachud said the whole tenor of the Medical Termination of Pregnancy Act, 1971 is to recognise the reproductive autonomy of every woman to choose medical intervention to terminate her pregnancy. If women with unwanted pregnancies are forced to carry their pregnancies to term, the state would be stripping them of the right to determine the immediate and long-term path their lives would take, it said.

The court observed that the artificial distinction between married and single women was not constitutionally sustainable. The benefits in law extend equally to both.

The bench, also comprising justices A S Bopanna and J B Pardiwala, further observed, "The decision to have or not to have an abortion is borne out of complicated life circumstances, which only the woman can choose on her own terms without external interference or influence. Reproductive autonomy requires that every pregnant woman has the intrinsic right to choose to undergo or not to undergo abortion without any consent or authorization from a third party."

Acknowledging the existence of abusive relationship within marital institutions, the bench also ruled that forceful pregnancy of a married women can be treated as "marital rape" for the purposes of abortion. It ruled that to abort pregnancy on the ground of marital rape a woman need not necessarily seek recourse to legal proceedings to prove the fact of sexual assault, rape or incest. "The meaning of rape must therefore be understood as including marital rape, solely for the purposes of the MTP Act and any rules and regulations framed thereunder. Any other interpretation would have the effect of compelling a woman to give birth to and raise a child with a partner who inflicts mental and physical harm upon her," the bench said.

To avail the benefit of Rule 3B(a) of the Act (which allows survivors of sexual assault or rape or incest to terminate pregnancy), the woman need not necessarily seek recourse to formal legal proceedings to prove the factum of sexual assault, rape or incest, the bench added.



TEEN PREGNANCIES

On teenage pregnancies, the bench freed doctors from the responsibility of disclosing the minor's name and identity in the information they give to the police under Section 19(1) of POCSO Act

Gehlot out of race, Digvijaya in. Will a dark horse enter?

SHAHID FARIDI @New Delhi

FORMER chief minister of Madhya Pradesh, Digvijaya Singh, 75, on Thursday made a wild card entry in the Congress presidential race by picking up a nomination form from the AICC headquarters and announcing that he would file his papers on Friday.

Thiruvananthapuram MP Shashi Tharoor has already announced his candidature. The race for the top Congress post appears to have narrowed down to between Digvijaya and Tharoor.

The last day for filing nomination papers is September 30. If the high command does not field a third candidate by Friday, Digvijaya Singh will most certainly be the next Congress president. Almost all Congress MLAs from Madhya Pradesh will arrive in Delhi on Friday along with the PCC delegates, who are the voters in the presidential election, to propose the candidature of Digvijaya Singh.

Sources, however, did not rule out the possibility of a last-minute entry of a Dalit candidate. Names of several party leaders were being mentioned in this context. Among them are Leader of Opposition in Rajya Sabha Mallikarjun Kharge, party general secretary Mukul Wasnik and former Haryana president of Congress Kumari Selja. Party general secretary K C Venugopal's name is also doing the rounds.

Ashok Gehlot, who was earlier tipped to be the party's official candidate, bowed out after meeting interim party president Sonia Gandhi. He apologised to Sonia for the ugly events in Jaipur and offered his resignation from the post of Rajasthan chief minister taking moral responsibility.

Party MLAs loyal to him had refused to meet central observers to sign a resolution authorising Sonia to choose his replacement after his nomination for party presidency. "I have apologised to Soniaji because a simple resolution, which is our tradition and which we always pass, a situation emerged that it could not be passed. I, as CLP leader, whatever the reasons, could not get the resolution passed," he said.

Digvijaya met Kharge, former finance minister P Chidambaram and Tharoor. Tharoor tweeted a picture of them hugging each other. P9

Bharat Jodo Yatra: Gundlupet all decked up to welcome Rahul

K SHIVA KUMAR @Gundlupet

EVEN as Mysuru district has come alive with the ongoing Dasara celebrations, a festive spirit of a different kind is being witnessed in the border district of Chamarajanagar which is all set to welcome the Congress party's 'Bharat Jodo Yatra', led by party leader Rahul Gandhi.

Gundlupet taluk in the district is all decked up with buntings, flexes and lights to give a ceremonial welcome to the grand old party's yatra. Residents of 41 panchayats in the taluk have been invited, and around 20,000-25,000 people are expected to attend the event.

Congress workers are working overtime in reaching out to every household inviting them to participate in the yatra.

Rahul is expected to reach Melakammanahalli around 9 am on Friday, where a welcome arch has been put up. He is expected to address a gathering at a ground in front of Dr BR Ambedkar Bhavan. Ganesh Prasad, Congress leader and son of late minister Mahadev Prasad, has been holding meetings with party workers, who have also undertaken a clean-up drive on the entire stretch where the yatra will pass. Puttashetty, a resident of Madapura, told TNIE that he is looking forward to attend the event.

Shivaprakash, a resident of Bheemanabeedu, said that though he is not affiliated to any party, he will attend the event to know what Rahul has to say.

Rahul and others will camp at Beggur before entering Mysuru on Saturday.

IMPLEMENTING BAN

42 offices linked to PFI sealed in state

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A DAY after the Central government banned the Popular Front of India (PFI) and its affiliates, 42 offices linked to the organisation were sealed by the police across Karnataka on Thursday. Additional Director General of Police (Law & Order) Alok Kumar confirmed the development. "The offices of the PFI, Campus Front of India, All India Imam Council and Rehab India Foundation were closed," Kumar said.

Another senior police officer said that teams also searched more than 50 places linked to PFI's affiliates across the state on Wednesday and Thursday after the Centre imposed the ban.

Soon after the ban, the Centre had directed the states to take necessary steps to execute the order and the state government had also issued orders to deputy commissioners and police heads of all districts. Accordingly, the police cracked down on the offices of the PFI and its sister organisations and sealed them.

In the state capital, four places were notified as unlawful under the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA) and were sealed, while 38 offices were sealed by the police in other districts. As many as 12 offices were closed in Mangaluru, nine in Udupi, seven in Dakshina Kannada and four in Kalaburagi.

Meanwhile, Home Minister Araga Jnanendra held a meeting to discuss the implementation of the ban orders and sought information from the officers on the procedures to be followed in confiscating properties of the organisations and sealing their offices. Additional Chief Secretary of Home Department Rajneesh Goel, DG & IGP Praveen Sood and other senior officers were present in the meeting.

Was illegally detained, tortured by cops, says man; police deny charges

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A 29-year-old man from Vijinapura has accused a police inspector and a sub-inspector of illegally detaining him for over 12 days and subjecting him to third-degree torture for three days by giving electric shock to his private parts.

The complainant, A Rajesh, resident of RR Layout in Vijinapura, has written to DG&IGP Praveen Sood and Bengaluru Police chief Pratap Reddy in this regard.

In his two-page complaint, Rajesh has accused the inspector and PSI of Ramamurthy Nagar Police Station of forcing him to admit to a crime which he did not commit.

Rajesh said he was detained from September 4 to 15 on suspicion that he was involved in a case of attempt to murder which took place a few months ago.

He has urged the top cops to register a criminal case against the two accused and six other policemen.

Rajesh has further alleged that he was taken to Victoria Hospital for treatment and was forced to tell the doctors that he sustained injuries after falling from a bike.

Meanwhile, Deputy Commissioner of Police (DCP) of East Division, Bheemashankar S Guled, and the accused police inspector have denied the accusations by saying that the complainant is a habitual offender and was wanted in a case of attempt to murder.

They said he is trying to escape from law by making false and baseless allegations against the police. P7

116 properties, ₹3.5cr loss in 2 yrs: Where is BBMP?

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE BBMP's Revenue Department has come under severe criticism for not taking measures to increase its revenue despite the lease period of 116 properties out of its 324 properties expiring two years ago. These properties were leased several decades ago at throwaway rates of ₹12-25 per square feet.

It is alleged that officials are allowing revenue leakage and activists say that out of 324 properties, the Palike has generated only Rs 54,90,206 whereas there is a potential to generate over Rs 3.5 crore as rental income from these properties.

As many as 235 commercial complexes, 24 educational institutions, 43 different departments of state government and 22 religious institutions were given a lease period by the municipal corporation a few decades ago.

RTI activist S Amaresh said that people who had taken the properties on lease at low rates are making lakhs of rupees by subleasing or renting to others as land rates are high in the IT capital.

"It is an open secret. Officials in the Revenue Department and the Estate Division are deliberately not cracking down on occupants. This is resulting in losses to the Palike. There is a provision that if officials fail to generate revenue from BBMP properties which results in losses, they can be suspended or sent back to the parent department," Amaresh said.

Going a step further, urban expert V Ravichander, said the BBMP's Revenue Department is "opaque".

"The list of assets is opaque and information on current leaseholders and occupants is also opaque. Opaqueness is the order of the day in BBMP. It (lease period and BBMP properties available for rent) is known only to a few and there is a private adjustment. This is an endemic problem in BBMP".

It is an open secret. Officials in the Revenue Department and the Estate Division are deliberately not cracking down on occupants. This is resulting in loss to the Palike.

STEP OUT TO GET YOUR BOOZE; NO ONLINE ORDERS

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka government has dropped its plan to allow online liquor sale in the state. The State Excise Department says it is not feasible and it could also result in losses to thousands of liquor outlet owners, besides rendering their staff jobless.

A proposal for online liquor business was first made during the H D Kumaraswamy-led coalition government which met with strong resistance from the Opposition parties.

Later, the proposal was re-introduced during B S Yediyurappa's tenure. The then government had directed the Excise Department to send its officials to various states to study feasibility of online liquor sale. Even during the pandemic, the government wanted to introduce online sales to avoid crowding at liquor outlets.

Speaking to TNIE, Excise Minister K Gopaliah said there are more than 14,000 licence holders across the state. Thousands of families depend on these outlets. "If we allow online liquor sale, it might hit the business of these people as many consumers will prefer delivery of liquor at their doorsteps. This is why we decided to not take the proposal forward," he said. "Also, people from lower income groups and those residing in slums might not be able to avail the online facility," he added.

Gopaliah said CM Basavaraj Bommai in his budget speech had set a target of ₹29,000 crore excise revenue for the year 2022-23, of which the Excise Department has already generated ₹14,400 crore in six months. "We will achieve the target by the end of the fiscal year," he added. Karnataka government is also considering to allow sale of wine in big stores and supermarkets. At present, only registered wine stores are allowed to sell wine in the state. This idea was mooted after Maharashtra state cabinet approved it.

Excise Department sources say that in an election year, the government is wary of taking any decision which might affect the party's prospects in polls.

UNION Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman appreciated Karnataka's efforts to encourage students to learn Sanskrit as around 35,000 students are pursuing the language. She suggested that efforts be made for global collaboration with universities across the world to understand their contribution towards the language, and find ways to exchange ideas.

Karnataka Sanskrit University's website was also inaugurated in Sitharaman's presence, who suggested that more transcripts must be added to the website for global accessibility.

Presiding over the 'Sanskrit Week Celebration 2022' and pre-graduate convocation in Bengaluru on Thursday, Dr Shatavadhani R Ganesh, a Sanskrit scholar and poet, was also felicitated in her presence.

Comparing Karnataka to Tamil Nadu, she appreciated that the former is promoting Sanskrit more than its neighbouring state. Explaining the steps taken by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, she said that there can be cross pollination with the NEP enabling students from other educational backgrounds can also learn the language.

Prof Shrinivasa Varakhedi, VC, Central Sanskrit University, explained the importance of Sanskrit, and said that in every district or village in the state, Sanskrit is a part of life. All study resources are available in Sanskrit for teaching students, and teachers should honour it, Varakhedi said.

'B'luru more student-friendly than other cities'

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

A delegation of university representatives from Queensland visited Bengaluru on Thursday to discuss collaborations between the state and India. Due to its student-friendly nature, Bengaluru has made it to the top for Australian universities and its students who want to pursue education in India, said Abhinav Bhatia, South Asia senior trade and investment commissioner, Trade and Investment Queensland.

"Bengaluru is an attractive destination as it has a feel for India's history and a more student-friendly than other cities," said Prof Sarah Todd, vice-president (Global) at Griffith University. Bhatia said that talks and collaborations are already underway with Christ University, Alliance University, Indian Institute of Science and IIM.

"Compared to pre-pandemic figures, India in demand for students. Bengaluru particularly has a few things. It is a liveable city, and feels easier to move around for a student," said Brett Lovegrove, Provice-chancellor (Global Partnerships), University of Queensland.

No net in 421 GPs, says NAAC director

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

NATIONAL Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) director Dr SC Sharma said that, when asked to investigate digital divide in India as part of the National Education Policy (NEP), he was shocked to find out that many gram panchayats across the country do not have even basic internet facilities.

Speaking at a national conference on NEP Readiness, organised by the Centre for Educational and Social Studies, he said, "Assignment and transportation theories must be used to solve problems at micro level. When I was asked by the Centre to evaluate the digital divide, I found that there are 421 gram panchayats without internet," he said.

The NEP, though well-thought out, has many issues which could lead to appointment of wrong persons as heads of institutions, he said. "We currently have a heterogeneous, pluralistic system, but each institution has its own problems. In terms of governance, when the wrong person is appointed as the head of an institution, how can anything good be expected?" he said.

IIT Guwahati director Dr TG Sitharam said, "More and more IIT graduates are choosing to stay back in India, and there is a golden opportunity to involve them. Even retired IIT professors can be used for accreditation. A new accreditation system for successful reengineering of higher education system can be created."

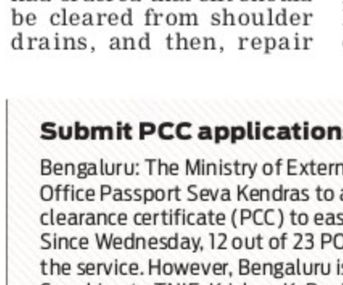
Meanwhile, Mahatma Gandhi National Council of Rural Education chairman Dr WG Prasanna Kumar said that the education system must make students competent and skilled by the end of first year of college, and criticised the education system for being more teacher-centric.

'Positive inputs for Natl Credit Framework'

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

UNIVERSITY Grants Commission (UGC) chairman Prof Mamidala Jagadesh Kumar said that the upcoming National Credit Framework has received positive inputs from vice-chancellors of universities and other representatives.

Kumar convened a meeting with VCs and representatives of various universities in Karnataka to discuss the implementation of the NEP. "To come out with the National Credit Framework, we consulted leaders of institutions, and have received positive inputs regarding the framework. The primary idea is to provide flexibility for students to provide mobility across institutions and discipline, to make use of multiple exit and entry opportunities," he said.



"We are aiming for a seamless transition from school-level to skill and higher education-levels. Students can accumulate the credits right from school-level with the Academic Bank of Credits, while there may be those who will acquire credits under skill education," he said.

Regarding internships, he said, "An electrical engineering students can intern at a panchayat office to see how technology can be improved for people."

TO facilitate transportation of Metro's new coaches from Peenya to Whitefield, new roads were laid on Wednesday night at the entrance to the Whitefield depot, where the process of shifting new coaches will being soon with trial runs likely to begin in the third week of October between Baiyappanahalli and Whitefield.

Speaking to TNIE, BMRCL MD Anjum Parwez said, "We will be shifting six coaches one by one in trailers during nights." Seven new trains manufactured by BEML Ltd will be inducted in this line. The roads were laid to make them wider for transportation, he said.

While work at the Whitefield depot was delayed by rain, the landing platform is ready. "Trial runs using trolleys are already underway," he said. "We are trying to launch by the first quarter of 2023," he said.

FOB work to link IKEA begins

Submit PCC applications in 12 post office PSKs

Bengaluru: The Ministry of External Affairs has authorised Post Office Passport Seva Kendras to accept applications for police clearance certificate (PCC) to ease the process of issuing them. Since Wednesday, 12 out of 23 POPSKs in Karnataka have started the service. However, Bengaluru is yet to start the process. Speaking to TNIE, Krishna K, Regional Passport Officer, Bengaluru, said that the certificate is mandatory to work in select foreign countries, and also establishes that the person does not have a criminal background. Until September 27, only the five PSKs in Hubballi, Mangaluru, Marathahalli, Kalaburagi and Lalbagh were authorised to collect applications. At present, 180 PCCs applications are received on average daily at passport kendras in Lalbagh, the official added. POPSKs at Ballari, Belagavi, Bidar, Davanagere, Gadag, Hassan, Mysuru, Raichur Shivamogga, Tumakuru, Udupi and Vijayapura have started the process. S LALITHA

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

30th September: Today's top signs are Leo and Libra which, when you put them together, are perfect for theatrical, colourful and sensitive people. For all of us, it's a day to put on our finery and enjoy the civilised things of the world - good food, great art and pleasant company.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
A bright and colourful moon is bound to lift your spirits, even if only temporarily. In fact, it's tomorrow's planetary picture which is going to set you on a permanent course for emotional fulfilment, so hang on in there, and do your level best to avert potential bad feeling.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
If ever you imagined that domestic hassles or awkward family relationships could be put off until later, think again. No matter what other people do or say, you must do what you know in your heart to be right and proper. You can't put off the inevitable just by ignoring it.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
It's a relatively lively day, celestially speaking. Probably the best thing you can do for yourself is to revise a few of your attitudes and opinions, and drop those excuses you've been using to justify inaction. It doesn't matter what you do, just as long as you do something!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
When all is said and done, money still seems to be the most important factor in your life. It may be best to consider the matter from the psychological perspective, for the extent to which you value yourself and your loved ones is more important than how much cash you have in your pocket.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
This really can be a special time of year, as one by one the planets line up in your honour. The trouble is that life's still not easy, but don't mistake obstacles or over-commitment for misfortune. Quite the opposite: a chance problem may help you to refine your talents and skills.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Mercury, your planetary ruler, has switched roles, somewhat prematurely in my opinion. Don't be disappointed if it begins to seem that a recent promise or commitment will not be fulfilled. Strange as it appears, any delay will be well worth the wait.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
The social dimension is becoming stronger, which means that in work or in any equivalent major ambition, other people are now becoming increasingly important. Never imagine that you'll get your way without a large measure of support. If you try to go it alone, you might not get there!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You're undecided about what you should do and uncertain about what's expected of you. Even if you decide to backtrack on one particular social engagement, it may be too late to call it off. In any event, all professional Scorpios are about to hit a new high at work. Congratulations!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
The ever-present influence of Jupiter, planet of growth, enhancing the principled and spiritual dimensions of your character, is about to receive another shot in the arm from the Moon. On a purely mundane level, it's vital that you know your rights.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Your emotional situation is about to change, hopefully for the better, although it might not seem that way at first. Long-distance love is still the theme, so it's very much a question of absence making the heart grow fonder over the coming few weeks.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Saturn, that serious and sober planet, is still an extraordinarily powerful factor. However, the feeling of stability which it has been nurturing are being increasingly overwhelmed by your deepening desire for a personal revolution and for more respect and recognition.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Mercury and Venus deserve no little thanks for the good they are doing you emotionally. Although today's celestial alignments favour hard work, do yourself a favour and cram your social diary as full as possible. You're prepared to play hard and work hard.

ENS @ Bengaluru

A GANG of five habitual offenders have been arrested by the city's North East division police. Mobile phones, two-wheelers and other valuables have been recovered. The gang was targeting victims walking alone on the roads late in the night. The police had to take custody of one of the accused who was in Parappana Agrahara Central Prison on whose behest one robbery was committed by his associate.

The accused are Habibulla Khan (24), Mohammed Salman (23), Jishan Khan (25) Lakshmi Narayan (39) and another juvenile delinquent. The accused had committed the robberies near Srirampura railway gate, near Kannamangala gate on the service road of Bengaluru-Ballari Main Road and at Devanahalli Town. All the accused have been remanded to judicial custody. Further investigations are on.

'Accused fears arrest'

"THE said person is wanted in a case of attempt to murder. He fears arrest and hence is making the allegations against the police. He is being supported by another person identified as Jagan who was charge-sheeted by Ramamurthy Nagar police in 2018," Guled said.

When contacted, Ramamurthy Nagar police inspector Melvin Francis said the allegations made against him are baseless. The complainant is wanted in over three cases and is finding out ways to escape from getting arrested, he said.

Fine amount cannot be collected by traffic cops, says HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

NOTING that under no circumstances can a fine amount be collected by traffic police to be paid on behalf of a drink-driving accused, as the court is the only authority to decide the fine amount, the Karnataka High Court quashed a case registered against two youths from Bihar by traffic police, without following procedure while apprehending them.

Citing a circular issued by the office of the Additional Commissioner of Police (Traffic) on September 25, 2015, with regard to the procedure to be followed by police while booking drink-driving cases in support of the order, Justice Mohammad Nawaz allowed the petition filed by Priyamshu Kumar and Alok Kumar, residing at Doddanekkundi.

The judge quashed the order dated October 26, 2018, passed by the magistrate court, rejecting their discharge from the offence punishable under Section 353 read with 34 of IPC, registered by the police inspector of HAL Airport Traffic Police Station at Mahadevapura police station.

The court said, according to the circular, the entire drink-driving checking activity should be videographed. If any person tries to misbehave or abuse the police, the officer should not lose his cool and take up an argument. It is to be understood that a person under the influence of alcohol is not in his senses, and is irritable, argumentative and abusive. However, in case the person tries to physically assault police, he should be restrained and jurisdictional police called to the spot to take custody of the person.

HC notice to finmin on TDS for free medicines

The High Court on Thursday issued notice to the Ministry of Finance (Central Board of Direct Taxes) on a PIL filed against a circular issued on June 16, 2022, to recover TDS on the value of free distribution of medicine samples to doctors, under Section 194R of the Income Tax Act. A division bench of Acting Chief Justice Alok Aradhe and Justice S Vishwajith Shetty issued notice after hearing the PIL filed by Karnataka Drugs and Pharmaceuticals Associations and three other drug manufacturers, on the ground that the circular issued by the central government is contrary to law, and the question of deduction of TDS does not arise as free medicines do not have any value.

State clocks 12 crore Covid vaccine doses

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

THE State Health Department on Thursday reached the milestone of 12 crore Covid vaccine doses, including 5.51 crore each of first and second doses for those aged above 12 years, and 97.81 lakh precautionary doses for those aged above 18.

Yet, only 23 per cent, including just 15 per cent of those aged between 18 and 59, 47 per cent of those aged above 60, 65 per cent of healthcare workers and 51 per cent of frontline workers have been administered the precautionary dose, as a lot of apprehension still persists among the public, health department officials said.

'People must be alert'

Covid Technical Advisory Committee (TAC) chairman Dr M K Sudarshan said that since the number of Covid cases has reduced, people are generally taking it easy and not taking the vaccine.

"They should always be alert that the effect of the vaccine lasts for about six months among normal population and for nearly three months among the high-risk population, including those with co-morbidities and senior citizens," Dr Sudarshan said.

On measures being taken to cover those not vaccinated with precaution doses or even first or second doses, officials of the health department said, "'Arogya karnatakkaagi abhiyaan' (campaign for healthy Karnataka) is on till October 2, 'Mane manege lasika mitra' (house to house vaccination) is underway, SMSs are being sent to eligible people through various media outlets and support of NGOs is being taken to reach out to eligible beneficiaries," they said.

Cong upbeat as Rahul's Bharat Jodo Yatra enters K'taka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

AS former AICC president Rahul Gandhi's 'Bharat Jodo Yatra' will enter Karnataka on Friday morning, the mood in the state Congress is upbeat. In the next 21 days, the yatra will cover over 500 km setting the tone for Congress' campaign for the 2023 Karnataka Assembly polls.

"It is a historic programme and the mood in the party is jubilant," KPCC working president and Bharat Jodo Yatra co-convenor Saleem Ahmed told TNIE.

The Wayanad MP will enter Karnataka at Gundlupet at around 8 am on Friday. On the first day, the padayatra will be from 9 am to 11 am and it will again resume at 4 pm and go on till 7 pm.

Ahmed said over 20,000 people will walk with Rahul each day. Congress leaders have been preparing for the yatra for the last 3-4 months and several committees headed by former ministers have been given the task of supervising every aspect of the mega programme.

Rahul will interact with farmers, labourers, unemployed youth, students, and members of self-help groups during the yatra. Party leaders will take up several major issues, including unemployment, price rise and corruption to attack the BJP state and central governments. "Rahul Gandhi is not leading the yatra for elections. It is for uniting the country and fighting against communal forces as well as highlight various important issues," Ahmed said.

KPCC president DK Shivakumar said Congress is trying to make politics people-centric. Taking to a social media platform to appeal to people to join the yatra, Shivakumar said if they want to see change, they must join the movement for change. Shivakumar said the Bharat Jodo Yatra is the first step towards change and under the leadership of Rahul, the Congress is trying to make politics once again people-centric, as opposed to the BJP's endless greed for power. "Let me warn you that it will be no picnic. We will walk 20 km a day no matter how the weather is," he added.

Ahead of Rahul arrival, Cong flexes damaged

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

AT a time when brisk preparations are under way to welcome Congress MP Rahul Gandhi, who will be entering Karnataka on Friday morning as part of his Bharat Jodo Yatra, flexes bearing images of Congress leaders, including those of former CM Siddaramaiah and KPCC president DK Shivakumar, were allegedly torn by miscreants at Gundlupet on Thursday.

Rahul, who has just finished the Kerala leg of his yatra, is all set to enter Karnataka at Gundlupet in Chamarajangar district. While Congress leaders in the region accuse the tearing of flexes as the handiwork of BJP workers, the latter leaders attribute it to the alleged indifferences brewing within the Congress over its state leadership.

The flexes that were erected on Gundlupet-Ooty road near Hotel Surabhi have been damaged allegedly with sharp objects. The flexes, which contained photos of Rahul Gandhi, Siddaramaiah, Shivakumar, and Chamarajanagar MLA Puttaranga Shetty, were targeted. Ganesh Prasad, Gundlupet Congress leader and son of late minister H S Mahadeva Prasad, said that BJP leaders are stooping to a new low by involving in such activities.

From traffic to VVIP stay, cops to provide tight security

MG CHETAN @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Police have prepared a detailed security plan as the Bharat Jodo Yatra, the big ticket Congress event in which party MP Rahul Gandhi, will be touring across the state, will be entering Karnataka on Friday.

An elaborate security arrangement, split into 17 sectors, will be in place during the rally. Speaking to TNIE, Additional Director General of Police (Law & Order) Alok Kumar said the bandobast scheme is prepared considering all aspects of the rally. "From the route of the yatra to the place where VVIPs will be staying, police personnel will be deployed in large numbers. We have chalked out plans for traffic management, crowd management, smooth movement of the rally, security deployment at places where food will be served to the participants, the place of residence (stay) of the VVIPS, conventions, and so on," Kumar said.

IGPs of the ranges concerned will be supervising the bandobast, while the SPs will be constantly monitoring the security arrangements to ensure that no untoward incidents happen during the rally. "At any point in time, as many as 1,000 policemen will be on the ground during the rally. Besides, 10 platoons of the KSRP will be deployed," Kumar said.

When asked whether the police are anticipating any protests during the rally in the wake of the 'poster war' between the Congress and the ruling BJP, the ADGP said that his department will keep a strict vigil even during the night and ensure that such activities do not taking place.

Showcase brands at G-20 in India, FM to K'taka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

UNION Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Thursday suggested that Karnataka should make use of the G-20 nations leaders' summit, slated to be held in India in September 2023, to showcase the state's brand to garner global attention.

"Since the G-20 meetings are spread across the country, including Karnataka, I earnestly wish the state will do its branding by identifying specific items, especially small and medium industries and handicrafts, so that it immediately grabs the attention of global leaders," Sitharaman suggested, speaking at the 105th annual general body meeting of Federation of Karnataka Chambers of Commerce & Industry (FKCCI).

Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman calls on former PM HD Deve Gowda at his residence, as his son HD Kumaraswamy looks on, in Bengaluru on Thursday

The Finance Minister told states to make the most of the G-20 summit as many meetings are slated to be held outside New Delhi, and there is scope to gain recognition. She suggested that FKCCI engage with the ministry of commerce to understand trade policy, and give inputs for signing of trade agreements on Foreign Direct Investment (FDI). Agreements have already been signed with Australia, UAE, UK and Canada.

Sitharaman showered praise on the Karnataka government for facilitating startups by constantly engaging in the process and creating a vibrant ecosystem with its policies. She also suggested that the government and industries look beyond IT to create more startups, keeping in mind that 2023 is the Year of Millets, and the country is the third largest exporter of millets.

"Chartered accountants, tax consultants and chambers of commerce should think about value addition -- rather than export raw millets, value addition will fetch a better price for farmers," she explained.

Sitharaman said that when developed countries are still struggling to overcome the effects of the pandemic on their economies, India was able to stand apart, though it is described as an emerging market. "It was the technological edge we had even before the pandemic that helped us overcome losses and steady growth. The benefits have reached the poorest of the poor," she remarked.

SDPI a registered political party, no decision on its ban: Bommai

ARUNKUMAR HURALIMATH @ Haveri

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday said that the Centre has not taken any decision on banning the Social Democratic Party of India (SDPI), which is a registered political party. Action will be taken based on developments in the coming days, he added.

Speaking to reporters in Haveri on Thursday, Bommai said the PFI has already been banned and it is a known fact that it came up in various phases -- from the Students' Islamic Movement of India (SIMI), then Karnataka Forum for Dignity (KFD) and later PFI. "The SDPI is a registered political party with the Election Commission of India, and so far, the Union Government has not taken any decision about it. Action will be taken depending on developments in future," Bommai said.

Following allegations that PFI was involved in terror activities, the NIA conducted raids on PFI offices and its leaders in the country recently. Now, several organisations have been demanding that even the SDPI be banned, which is said to be the political front of PFI.

Replying to the Leader of Opposition in the Council B K Hariprasad, who stated that the ban on PFI is an election gimmick, the CM alleged that the PFI is involved in murders and anti-social activities. "The Congress had itself demanded in the House that the PFI be banned, and now Hariprasad is making such statements," he remarked.

When asked about KPCC chief DK Shivakumar's statement on the tearing up of Bharat Jodo Yatra flexes, Bommai said: "There is no need to tear the Congress' flexes. Everybody knows, who is doing Jodo (connecting) and who is doing Todo (breaking)."

SDPI offices where PFI wing operated sealed

UDUPI: Though the SDPI was not on the Centre's list of banned outfits, its offices in Udupi, Hoode, Pandubettu, and Gangolli were raided by police, and locked as the PFI wing operated from there. A mosque near Nayarkere was also searched, as police suspected that certain PFI documents were kept there. From the SDPI offices, police seized PFI workers' caps and other documents. The raid was carried out from 11 pm to 2 am by several police teams. Udupi DC Kurma Rao said that as per the government order, the offices were raided and sealed. Sources said that no offices functioned in the name of PFI in Udupi, but all activities of the PFI wing were carried out in the SDPI offices.

BENGALURU: The Karnataka government issued an order on Thursday, giving a government job on contract basis to Nutana Kumari, wife of Praveen Nettaru, who was killed in July this year in Dakshina Kannada. The order says Nutana Kumari, resident of Nettaru village of Dakshina Kannada district, has been appointed senior assistant, a Group C cadre at the Chief Minister's Office in Bengaluru. As per Karnataka State Civil Services Act, 1978, only junior and senior assistants posts can be processed through direct recruitment. HC seeks clarity on signing of cheques by seer

OBSERVING that the memo filed by Murugha Mutt pontiff Shivamurthy Murugha Sharanaru does not inspire confidence, the Karnataka High Court on Thursday adjourned the hearing of his petition, seeking directions to jail authorities to permit him to sign cheques for disbursement of salaries to employees, to Friday. The seer was arrested under the Pocso Act. Justice M Nagaprasanna made this observation while pointing out a big number of cheques drawn in favour of 'Self-Salary, Self-RTGS' in the documents provided along with the memo filed by swami, and asked his counsel for clarity.

Before adjourning the hearing, the court observed that the court's concern is only that employees should not be affected, and the state should ensure they get their salaries. The memo was filed in response to the court's instructions on Wednesday, to file a statement explaining what the seer was doing to disburse salaries to employees before his arrest, and whether he needs to sign a single cheque or multiple cheques. The swami moved court, seeking directions to jail authorities to allow him to sign cheques to disburse salaries.

KGF Babu eyes Chickpet; ticket war all set out to break out in Congress

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

CONGRESS leader KGF Babu pitching for a ticket from the Chickpet Assembly segment in Bengaluru, an alarmed RV Devaraj, former MLA from the constituency, met KPCC president DK Shivakumar and discussed the issue.

Party sources said that in addition to Babu, another Muslim leader Mansur Khan too is interested in the constituency, which has over 40,000 minority voters. The developments are indicating that a ticket war could break out within the party.

The fact that Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar camps have their own favourites from each constituency has not helped matters. Many aspirants have already come out to say that they have the support of one of the camps. With the opposition party aiming to come back to power in 2023 and seeking to put up a united front, such turf could turn out to be a big headache for the Grand Old Party.

Add to this constituencies like KR Puram, Yeshwanthpur and RR Nagar, from where Congress candidates have switched over to BJP. Each of these seats has more than one claimant from the party.

Roshan Baig's exit and victory of first-timer Rizwan Arshad from the Shivajinagar constituency means that Rizwan is safe for the moment. Sitting MLAs, like Dinesh Gundu Rao from Gandhinagar, KJ George from Sarvajna Nagar, NA Haris from Shanthinagar, M Krishnappa from Vijaynagar, Krishna Byre Gowda from Byatarayanapura, Akhanda Srinivas Murthy from Pulakeshinagar, Ramalinga Reddy from BTM and Sowmya Reddy from Jayanagar are strong in their constituencies and the tickets will go to them. Obviously there is not much room for play here.

Congress is also thinking of announcing the candidates early, which will give a few months for them to prepare for the polls. But on the flip side, it will allow those aspirants who are left out to rebel.

The fact that senior Congress leader Rehman Khan recently issued an official disciplinary notice to KGF Babu shows that the party is serious about curbing the problem of party infighting.

BJP hits back at Siddu's 'ban RSS' remark

ENS @Bengaluru

CONGRESS Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah's demand to "ban RSS and other organisations that disturb public peace" has not gone down well with BJP leaders, who hit back, claiming that he did not have the moral right to speak about the RSS.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai led the attack. "Should RSS be banned for its patriotic activities? Is there any ground to ban RSS? Siddaramaiah cannot talk of politics without raising the name of RSS. Like a cat is always focussed on the mouse, Siddaramaiah is always focussed on the RSS..."

MLA MP Renukacharya said Siddaramaiah does not have the right to speak about the RSS, and that he had released 175 PFI activists during his tenure as chief minister.

BJP state president Nalinkumar Kateel demanded that the Congress be banned for "encouraging terror", evoking a retort from Siddaramaiah, "If the Congress did not fight for freedom and was also into the business of writing apology letters like Savarkar, India would still not have got its freedom..."

Meanwhile, Congress General Secretary and state incharge Randeep Surjewala tweeted, "When will the BJP government act against the other side of the same coin organisations close to BJP–RSS. Communalism and hate in all forms must be harmful to societal fabric and must be curbed."

TN govt denies permission to RSS Oct 2 route march

Decision flies in the face of HC order which gave nod for rally: BJP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

THE Tamil Nadu government on Thursday denied permission to the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS) to hold 'route march' rallies at 51 places across the State on October 2, Gandhi Jayanthi Day, citing law and order issues. The DMK government has also denied permission to its ally, the Viduthalai Chiruthaigal Katchi, to hold communal harmony rally on the same day.

"The State Government is taking all steps, including precautionary measures, to maintain law and order. Permission has been denied for taking out rallies and organizing public meetings by the RSS and other organisations," a government statement said.

"Islamic organisations have been staging demonstrations against the ban on PFI. There have also been instances of communal frenzy being whipped up in the state in the recent past. Some organisations have also sought government's permission to take out communal harmony processions and form human chains on the same day when the RSS has sought permission to take out 'route march' rallies," the Tamil Nadu government said giving out the reasons for its decision.

Reacting strongly to the DMK government's decision, BJP state vice-president T Narayanan said the decision flies in the face of the HC order, which gave nod for the RSS rally, and has been issued to satisfy some people. Ruling on a batch of petitions filed by RSS office-bearers, the Madras High Court last week granted permission to the RSS to take processions on October 2 at 51 places in Tamil Nadu, subject to certain conditions.

RSS FILES CONTEMPT PETITION IN MADRAS HC

RSS has moved a contempt of court petition before the Madras High Court against top officials of the Tamil Nadu government, including the Home Secretary and the DGP, for wilful disobedience of the court's order granting the organisation permission for its "route march" even as the state moved the court for reviewing its order. The contempt petition by R Karthikeyan, joint secretary of RSS in Thiruvallur, accused Thiruvallur town inspector, who had denied permission to the route march, of committing "wilful disobedience" of court order.

BATTLE FOR ODISHA

Nadda exhorts BJP workers to defeat BJD

BIJOY PRADHAN @ Bhubaneswar

VIRTUALLY kickstarting the campaign for 2024 general elections from Odisha, BJP national president JP Nadda on Thursday launched a scathing attack on the Congress and the "family-owned" parties including BJD, while giving a clarion call to party workers to install a double engine government to steer Odisha into the path of rapid economic progress.

Addressing a rally of around 25,000 party workers from panchayats at Janata Maidan here in his first ever visit to Odisha after assuming the charge of party president, Nadda said, the Congress has been reduced to a mere "brother-sister" party.

"Today, we are fighting the Congress, but the party no longer remains national or Indian as it has become a brother and sister party," he said.

Describing the Opposition political parties including Congress and BJD as family-owned outfits, he said, in as many as 12 states, the BJP is fighting against family-run parties.

From north to south, every other political party is dynastic – be it the Abdullahs in Jammu and Kashmir to Karunanidhi family in Tamil Nadu... the Thackeray, Pawar families in the West to the Laloo Prasad Yadav-Tejaswvi Yadav and Mamata Banerjee-Abhisek Banerjee in the East. The BJD is also a family-based party, he said. Focussing on Odisha, Nadda termed the Patnaik government inefficient and corrupt

No scheme for regulation of mutts, says HC

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court declined to issue direction to the State government to exercise its power under Article 162 of the Constitution to frame a scheme for administration of mutts. "The legislature has expressly excluded mutts and temples attached to mutts, as they are headed and managed by mathadipathis. In any case, the petitioners have an alternative remedy under Section 92 ... Therefore, we are not inclined to exercise extraordinary discretionary jurisdiction under Article 226, and therefore, a writ petition is held to be not maintainable," the court said.

A division bench of acting Chief Justice Alok Aradhe and Justice S Vishwajith Shetty pronounced the order on Thursday on a petition filed by Edurkala Ishwara Bhat and five others, claiming to be devotees of Sri Ramachandrapura Mutt. The court reserved liberty to the petitioners to take recourse to remedy provided under the CrPC.

A petition filed by TT Hegde for grant of permission to file a suit seeking removal of Sri Raghaveshwara Bharathi Swami from the seat of peetadhipathi and to appoint a new peetadhipathi was dismissed for non-prosecution.

Thereafter, Bhat and others filed the petition in 2016, seeking directions to the Department of Revenue (Muzrai) to exercise its executive power to regulate Ramachandrapura Mutt and all other mutts, pending the passing/enactment of a regulatory statute by the state legislature. Alternatively, to frame a scheme to regulate mutts in general, and in the present context to regulate the mutt with regard to the misuse and abuse of power by Sri Raghaveshwara Bharathi Swami.

EPS: Commission, collection, corruption is DMK's slogan

VIRUDHUNAGAR: The DMK government is only implementing and inaugurating the schemes that were initiated by the previous AIADMK government, said former CM and AIADMK leader Edappadi K Palaniswami on Thursday. Addressing a public meeting in Sivakasi, he said his government had initiated various schemes, including the combined drinking water scheme, that were being launched now. "The AIADMK government had also carried out various measures to assist the firecracker industry in Sivakasi. We had also set up a hospital there exclusively to treat burn injuries. The present government is, however, burdening everyone through the electricity tariff hike and the property tariff hike. The DMK government's slogan should be 'commission, collection and corruption," he said. "Also, these DMK leaders keep mentioning the term 'Dravida model' everywhere. They are only speaking about it, while it was the AIADMK govern-ments which created and implemented the Dravida model," he said. ENS

BAN CAN CRIPPLE PFI, BUT CANNOT EFFACE ITS IDEOLOGY

The pace and precision with which the Central government accomplished neutralising the Popular Front of India (PFI) are commendable. Barring the violence during the hartal in Kerala, the reaction to the nationwide raids and the ban was largely peaceful. PFI leadership has announced the disbandment of the outfit but has vowed to fight the ban legally. There is no doubt that the ban will seriously cripple the forces behind the PFI and compel them to remain silent for some time. However, it would be unrealistic to expect administrative action alone can fetch the desired results.

Violence was deeply entrenched in the ideology of the PFI right from the inception of its earlier avatar—the National Development Front (NDF). Misquoting from religious scriptures, PFI leadership had declared that the holy book sanctioned armed resistance. Drawing inspiration from organisations like Hamas and Hezbollah, PFI fancied itself as the self-proclaimed defender of Muslims in India. Such posturing had attracted many youths looking for an adventurous alternative. PFI's military-style parades during its unity marches and the rabble-rousing speeches by its leaders created the impression that it was an invincible force that could take on the Sangh Parivar physically and ideologically. PFI not only unleashed violence against its enemies but even put forward Islamic justification for them—liberally using quotes from the Quran and Hadees in speeches and writings.

PFI's feeder organisations, such as the All India Imams Council, Campus Front of India, and Women's Front of India, helped the outfit spread its ideology. The ban will render them defunct, but the ideology they propagated will remain dormant and it may take a different form when the situation is conducive. The Social Democratic Party of India (SDPI), PFI's political arm, is yet to be banned, and it could continue to be a platform for PFI members. But a political party cannot maintain a religion-based organisation's ideological rigour, discipline, and commitment. So, the PFI may look for other ways to regroup.

Along with stringent action against those who perpetrate and advocate violence, all sections of society must be convinced there are established means to address their grievances. Extremism is a violent, undemocratic, and dangerously desperate attempt to address any injustice, real or imagined. The best way to de-radicalise would be to keep the channels of democracy open and transparent.

STOP CALLOUS ATTITUDES FROM TAKING MORE LIVES

Three horrifying deaths in as many days have left Karnataka shocked and angry. The deaths were entirely avoidable: One man walked into a ditch in Bengaluru, left open by the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike for three months; a pair of teenagers tumbled down a 30-ft embankment on their bike in Gadag while riding on a village road that had given way under heavy rain. Yet another biker fell into a pit in the middle of a road in Hubballi city, again left exposed by civic authorities for repairs, but was lucky to escape with head injuries. The incidents, which occurred over the past week, highlight our infrastructure's pathetic state and our civic personnel's brazen negligence. The three incidents have many commonalities—the victims had ventured out in the dark, and residents had apprised the authorities about the dangers on their roads, yet no action was taken.

On this count alone, the civic administration should be charged with murder, and the guilty officials punished. Passing off such deaths as accidental would be a travesty: one was a breadwinner, while the youngsters died pitifully young. It is disturbing that such incidents are reported regularly, yet, civic officials remain callously indifferent to their responsibilities and, quite literally, get away with murder.

These deaths raise other pertinent questions: Why is our infrastructure almost always below par and in a constant state of disrepair? Can we not incorporate suitable building materials and methods into our public facilities, so they survive the vagaries of the weather? Our roads–urban and rural—appear war-ravaged and collapse swiftly under heavy rain, pavements are broken, and there is danger at every step. For a country which boasts of a brainy talent pool, there is little to show by way of quality engineering, and this is especially true of our cities. Architects and civil engineers, inclined to adopt foreign building styles, are turning cities into glassy heat islands. Instead, they could study the country's ecology, dip into history for sustainable architecture, and adapt modern technical know-how to local topography and climate. We need holistic planning with a blend of old and new. Not that we are incapable of it: some of our highways are visible examples of excellence, which makes the compromises that citizens make even more unreasonable.

QUICK TAKE

CANNOT STALL JUSTICE

The Supreme Court decides to take the bull of pending cases by the horn. It will list 300 of the oldest pending matters from October 11. It is a tiny beginning in a country with over four crore cases pending in all courts, including lakhs for decades. Such a state of affairs makes a mockery of citizens' expectation of prompt administration of justice. Delays erode their sense of security that the courts will punish the ones who do wrong. Wonder why a one-off system to clear the backlog while maintaining a reasonable balance between speed and justice eludes the judiciary.

Governments and global health agencies turned a blind eye to the threat of noncommunicable diseases as they thought that these were problems of the rich countries

A PUBLIC HEALTH EMERGENCY IN SLOW MOTION

DR K SRINATH REDDY

Cardiologist, epidemiologist and President, Public Health Foundation of India

About 15 years ago, speaking at a global health conference, I described the rising threat of noncommunicable diseases (NCDs) as a public health emergency in slow motion. Relaxation of patent protection rules was permitted for responding to a public health emergency (PHE) under the Doha Declaration of the World Trade Organisation. I argued for its extension to medicines and technologies needed to provide essential healthcare for NCDs.

The Secretary-General of the United Nations later described a PHE when a high-level global leadership meeting was convened in 2011 to adopt a political declaration on the prevention and control of NCDs. The declaration acknowledged NCDs as the leading cause of death and disability the world over. While low and middle-income countries (LMICs) contributed to 70% of the global deaths due to NCDs, 90% of those deaths occurred below 70 years of age.

NCDs were not listed in the Millennium Development Goals of 2000, despite being the leading causes of death. International aid agencies declined to consider them while providing development assistance to LMICs, as did the World Bank. Governments of LMICs, too, did not accord priority to NCDs, guided as they were by the funding priorities of donor countries.

NCDs encompass many 'non-infectious' conditions affecting the heart, blood vessels, nervous system, lungs, kidneys, liver and gastrointestinal system, bones and joints, eyes, ears and oral health. They include cancers and diabetes. Despite the name, some of the conditions classed as NCDs have an infectious aetiology, like cancers of the cervix, stomach and liver, and rheumatic heart disease. The term 'chronic diseases' is preferred by some, but acute heart attacks and brain strokes challenge that description.

WHO identified four major NCDs (cardiovascular disease, cancers, diabetes and chronic respiratory diseases) as priorities in 2011. It also listed unhealthy diets, physical inactivity, tobacco and alcohol as four common risk factors linking these four major NCDs ('4 by 4'). In 2018, the WHO added mental health disorders to the NCDs and air pollution to the risk factors ('5 by 5') to expand the priority list for global health action.

Why did governments and global health agencies turn a blind eye to the threat of NCDs for so long? Reasons were partly related to the ambiguous nomenclature of NCDs but mostly due to a misconception that these diseases were only problems of the rich countries and the rich within LMICs. Infectious diseases, nutritional disorders and conditions that compromised maternal and child health were considered health challenges for the poor. Some World Bank economists published a policy brief in 1999, ahead of the MDG debates in 2000, arguing that attention to NCDs will cause neglect of the diseases that affect the poor. This misplaced thesis did not reflect the state of global health then.

SOUMYADIP SINHA

NCDs first started in Europe and North America among the rich who had the means to avidly consume new tobacco products, fat, sugar and salt-rich foods, and adopt labour-saving devices. However, mass production of these mediators of risk led to other sections of the society later succumbing to unhealthy behaviours. The rich were the first to use the emerging knowledge on risk factors of NCDs. Many of them gave up tobacco, adopted healthy diets and undertook physical activity. The social gradient of risk progressively reversed, as the poor among countries and the poor within countries became the dominant victims.

The rich also have access to better healthcare. They do get heart attacks but less often than the poor, suffer them at a later age, and die much older. The poor have limited access to health and nutrition literacy, are deterred by the high cost of healthy foods, and get addicted to mass-marketed ultra-processed foods, tobacco and alcohol. They find necessary healthcare inaccessible or unaffordable and are devastated by disease, disability and lost income.

In rich countries, NCD epidemics evolved over the course of the twentieth century, with shifts to older age groups and poorer sections manifesting after the 1970s. Health transition operations were telescoped in LMICs. Delayed industrialisation and growing urbanisation propelled the NCD epidemics in LMICs and they gained speed from globalisation which constituted the tailwind of the 20th century. By the beginning of the 21st century, there was sufficient evidence that the poor in LMICs were suffering in large numbers.

This recognition led the World Bank to partially course correct in 2007, acknowledging that NCDs were indeed a problem of the poor and their chronic nature impoverished people. A 2011 study by Harvard and the World Economic Forum stated that the staggering cost of NCDs to the global economy was estimated to be $47 trillion for the period of 2011–30. This study greatly influenced the UN meeting on NCDs in the same year.

Finally, NCDs were recognised as a threat to global development. Prevention and control of NCDs became part of the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Covid-19 reminded us that the distinction between infectious diseases and NCDs is flimsy. The majority of people who became seriously ill or died from Covid-19 were those who had NCDs as co-morbidities.

In India, NCDs accounted for 66% of deaths in 2019. Many of those occurred in the productive prime of midlife. Till recently, our primary healthcare systems were exclusively focused on the MDG agenda. Recently, NCDs and mental health have been included under the rubric of 'comprehensive primary healthcare'. Secondary and tertiary care capacity for the treatment of NCDs is growing. Prevention of NCDs requires multi-sectoral actions directed at the drivers in other sectors, with demands to prioritise health in all policies. Perhaps that is why NCDs evade reductionist specificity even in their nomenclature!

LIVING THROUGH INDIA'S RACE AND GENDER WAR

NGURANG REENA

Writer and researcher, Jawaharlal Nehru University

The 2014 murder of Nido Tania in New Delhi sparked a nationwide movement against racism in India, especially violence against people from the Northeast Indian region. In 2012, Richard Loitam's murder in Bengaluru brought shame and condemnation. Richard and Tania's names, faces, and stories became an impetus for public policy and media debates on the future of race-related issues in India.

Amidst the outrage against the December 16, 2012, gang rape and murder in Delhi, a woman from Sikkim fell victim to a gang rape in a moving car in Gurgaon. Unlike Nirbhaya, she survived after being thrown out of a moving vehicle. Violence against indigenous women in India's metropolises continues today; between 2014 and 2020, the country witnessed several assaults and deaths, including two women from Assam and Manipur. Several women from the NE residing in various Indian cities reported sexual assaults during the peak of Covid-19. The pandemic exposed the Indian faultlines—race and gender-based violence, to name a few.

In India, efforts to proactively curb gender-based violence and discussions on assaults on indigenous women are negligible. The accountability from government, police, media and civil society is also minimal. The failure to highlight and demand accountability for the countless indigenous women killed or assaulted in India's metropolises leaves a lot of women from the NE region feeling unsafe and unaccounted for in the face of our continued vulnerability to racialised sexual violence.

In July, two men assaulted me verbally, ending with a note on nationalism and 'Indianness' in a south Delhi cafe. Two weeks later, a young man followed me to a public park in south Delhi one morning. He spoke good English and tried to force himself on me; he said he wanted to have sex and practice yoga with me. I had to push him and run, scared for my life. In just 40 days, I was subjected to sexual assault twice.

The events that occurred in the past weeks are not unique to me; they reverberate around most of the Indian society, but the global race war and gender-based violence are a reality. The role of race has been overlooked for a long time in feminist theories.

Intersectionality, a theory coined by African-American academic and writer Kimberlé Crenshaw in 1989, through black women's experiences, first exposed the many facets of racialised gender vulnerabilities in the US system. Crenshaw discussed the need for an intersectional framework to describe how race, class, gender, and other individual characteristics "intersect".

In the Indian case, the 'burden' of sexuality attached to indigenous Indian women, primarily from the NE region, has resulted in unwarranted desires in the form of sexual assaults. Our ethnic identity exposes a type of unique vulnerability and sexuality, often described as promiscuous.

In 2017, while visiting my friends at a hotel in south Delhi, I was assaulted in a lift by hotel guests. Two men enquiring about my "rate" offered me sex for the night. Naturally, the encounter was unpleasant, eventually involving the hotel management and the city's SPUNER—The Special Police Unit for North-Eastern Region.

> The 2010 Dhaula Kuan rape case signalled a similar foreboding—the intersection of gender, race and sexuality. In this case, a Mizo woman's assault was almost "justified" because of her sexuality attached to her ethnicity

Well, things aren't easy even after the assault. Police violence, in the form of little or no action against a complaint made by women from the NE, must be investigated. Indian police, like the rest of the Indian society, generally have no qualms about displaying their biases towards the people from the NE region, particularly women.

My 2017 rendezvous at the hotel is a classic example. In the aftermath of the assault in the hotel's lift by two inebriated hotel guests, the police, to a great extent, profiled me on my ethnicity and wouldn't heed my complaints until I called up the NE helpline and visited the local police station with a male friend.

The 2010 Dhaula Kuan rape case signalled a similar foreboding—the intersection of gender, race and sexuality. In this case, a Mizo woman's assault was almost "justified" because of her sexuality attached to her ethnicity. In another case, according to reports, the police officer in charge assumed the two women complainants to be from the Northeast and delayed the registration of a sexual assault complaint. The complainants were women of Chinese descent from Singapore on vacation in Goa.

The National Crime Records Bureau released its latest on nationwide crimes last month, and Delhi is, yet again, the most unsafe city for women in India. Facilitating women's safety is central to India's claim to an independent and modern nation-state. Despite my years of efforts to integrate with Delhi, I, like millions of other migrants, do not have a political faculty. Because of the relentless violence on us, writing has become just a necessity.

India's colonial history bestows the systemic war on race and gender. The sexualisation of indigenous women's bodies in post-colonial India, without a doubt, is constrained by imperial regimes of power and patriarchy. Ensuring indigenous women's safety and well-being in the cities requires developing a language that adequately represents and fosters indigenous political visibility. To understand the why and how of assaults on women from the NE Indian states, we need a collective introspection beyond the rhetorical headlines, "NE woman assaulted". Crenshaw's intersectionality is, perhaps, a way to examine indigenous women's agency in cities like New Delhi.

Addressing police violence in Indian cities towards women from the NE is also crucial. It requires broadening the public conversation, informed by robust research, analysis, and advocacy. Visibility of such violence necessitates reforming existing frames of examining race-based gender violence. However, it is also essential to introduce structural reforms such as criminalising racial crimes and add new provisions in the Indian Penal Code, i.e., Section 52B, 153C and 509A, which will allow us to define, criminalise and penalise racial offences in India.

NavIC, the right direction

Apropos of the quick take, The Indian Navigator (Sept 29). There are already many nations who use their own GPS systems. The Indian government should exert pressure on service providers to enable NavIC, the indigenously developed GPS system. But for that to happen, a feasible target date for implementation must be decided.

Wrong metric used

Apropos of Poles apart: UK's monarchy and India's democracy (Sept 29). The comparison here is unfair. The British do not have a caste system that is a prevalent social evil in India. The Global Hunger Index has ranked India at 101 out of 116 countries. Essentially, democracy will be a better option if adhered to in its totality. And, is religion and state really separate in India? Why have we not had even one Christian president?

India light years ahead

Apropos of Poles apart: UK's monarchy and India's democracy (Sept 29). The columnist Surya Prakash excellently differentiated between the UK's monarchy and India's democracy. The extensive media coverage of Charles' accession to the throne shows that they still follow such monarchical traditions. So, yes, India's democratic values are greater. Because, like Prakash stated, any Indian citizen can become president. But no British citizen can become King.

No action against Patanjali on misleading ads, says RTI

Adds U'khand drug licensing body sitting on Ayush ministry directions

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

REPEATED reminders sent by the Ministry of Ayush to Uttarakhand Drug Licensing authority to take action against Baba Ramdev's Patanjali Ayurved for misleading advertisements of its drugs, claiming to cure diseases, have been ignored. In reply to a Right to Information (RTI) query, the Ayush ministry has claimed that it is still awaiting a report from the Uttarakhand Ayurveda and Unani services licensing authority on Patanjali and requested them to expedite the matter and submit the action taken report instantly.

The ministry had earlier found that advertisements by Patanjali to promote "Lipidom", "Livogrit", and "Livamrit" brands of medicines were misleading and violated the Drugs and Magic Remedies (objectionable advertisement) act 1954 and Drugs and Cosmetics Act 1940. Lipidom, made by Divya Pharmacy, had advertised in February this year that it reduces cholesterol within a week, preventing heart problems, stroke and blood pressure.

Livigrit and Livamrit were advertised as a cure for fatty liver, liver cirrhosis and digestive system.

The Ayush Ministry has also shared a trail of communication registering its objection to the false claims made by the drug manufacturer.

The ministry said that no correspondence has been received from the state licensing authority and requested the director, ayurvedic and unani services to expedite the matter. Kannur-based ophthalmologist K V Babu had complained about the misleading advertisements and had also sought RTI responses on the authorities' actions.

Speaking with this newspaper, Babu, who had brought up the matter, and had filed RTI in this regard, said "even after five months, Uttarakhand SLA didn't even bother to reply to the Government of India."

"Misleading advertising on drugs included in the scheduled drugs may inadvertently lead people to stop time tested treatment with clearly proven scientific data and resort to drugs which don't have any proven efficacy. Being an Ophthalmologist, I had seen some of the patients stopping treatment for glaucoma, which led to blindness. That's a public health disaster," he added.

Babu said that the law enforcing agencies are lax in enforcing the laws meant to prevent misleading advertising. "Hope this intervention will be an eye opener for the various state and central governments," he added.

'Promotion of medicine brands violated rules'

The ministry had earlier found that advertisements by Patanjali to promote "Lipidom", "Livogrit", and "Livamrit" brands of medicines were misleading and violated the Drugs and Magic Remedies (objectionable advertisement) Act 1954 and Drugs and Cosmetics Act 1940.

The Ayush ministry had told the Parliament in July this year that misleading claims about herbal medicine in advertisements in electronic and print media have gone up, with over 10,000 objectionable promotions being reported from March 2021 to June 2022. The Advertising Standards Council of India (ASCI) received 4,885 complaints from March 2019 to February 2020 against misleading advertisements, including herbal medicines/products, in various media.

From March 2020 to February 2021, 6,804 complaints about misleading advertisements were received, which went up to 10,035 complaints from March 2021 to June 2022, Ayush Minister Sarbananda Sonowal said in a written reply in the Rajya Sabha. The Drugs and Magic Remedies (Objectionable Advertisements) Act, 1954 and the rules encompass the prohibition of misleading advertisements and exaggerated claims of drugs and medicinal substances, including AYUSH medicines, which appear in the print and electronic media, and the government has taken note thereof.

Gehlot says sorry, Raj Cong rift continues

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot may have apologised to Sonia Gandhi for the revolt raised by MLAs last Sunday but the verbal war between leaders of the Gehlot and Pilot factions continues and both sides are leaving no chance to embarrass each other in Rajasthan.

At a Jaipur press conference, Rajasthan's cabinet minister Govind Ram Meghwal has warned that if Sachin Pilot is made the CM, all MLAs will resign. He also said that we are ready for mid-term elections rather than accepting Pilot as CM. Another Gehlot supporter and RTDC Chairman Dharmendra Rathod also held a press conference on Wednesday and made fierce allegations against the Pilot camp. He also accused Pilot camp MLA Ved Prakash Solanki of conspiring to get two Congress votes for BJP in the election of the district chief. The two leaders also showed footage of a meeting of Ved Prakash Solanki and state BJP Chief Satish Poonia in Jaipur's Mansarovar area.

A day earlier, it is worth noting that MLA Solanki had called Dharmendra Rathod, a close aide of Gehlot, a 'registered broker'.

Hitting back at Solanki, now Dharmendra Rathod said that the meeting of Solanki and Poonia has proved who is a traitor and who is loyal. Rathod said that election observer Govind Meghwal sent the report of this entire matter to Rajasthan in-charge Ajay Maken. But, till date no action has been taken on that report.

Responding to Rathod's statement that 19 MLAs who went to Manesar, including Sachin Pilot, are traitors, an MLA of Pilot faction and Minister of State for Agriculture Marketing Murarilal Meena said, "At that time we had raised the voice of our rights to Delhi. These people misinterpreted our action. Somebody says that we had rebelled. Some say you have become traitors. I say there is no traitor, we stayed there (Manesar) for a month. But we did not utter a word against the high command of the party or the party in general. It was simply a fight for our rights."

On the other hand, a cabinet minister close to Gehlot, Pratap Singh Khachariawas, said that "any decision taken by Sonia Gandhi regarding the CM will be accepted. With CM Gehlot apologising, it means we all have apologised. Now everything depends on Sonia Gandhi. We accept the decision that Sonia Gandhi will take for the post of CM. Our leader is Sonia Gandhi who is also the leader of Ashok Gehlot."

In order to curb the ongoing tussle between the two factions, the Congress high command late on Thursday has issued an advisory warning rajasthan leaders to avoid accusatory remarks, or be ready for action.

Adultery can break families, shake armed forces' discipline: SC

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

EMPHASISING on the fact that adultery causes pain and can break families, the Supreme Court on Thursday said that armed forces should have a mechanism for disciplinary proceedings against the officers for adultery. While considering Centre's petition filed by the Ministry of Defence (MoD) seeking to exempt armed forces personnel from the ambit of a Constitution Bench judgment of 2018 that decriminalised adultery, a bench five judges headed by Justice KM Joseph also remarked that adultery has the tendency of shaking discipline in armed forces.

A 5-judge bench also comprising Justices Ajay Rastogi, Aniruddha Bose, Hrishikesh Roy and CT Ravikumar said, "Adultery causes pain, it can break families. We have seen in High Courts while dealing with matrimonial cases, how adultery can break families...don't treat it in a light handed manner. Armed forces must have some kind of assurance that they will take action. How can they cite Joseph Shine's judgment and say it cannot be?"

"In uniformed services, there has to be discipline," the bench further added. Another oral observation which was made by the bench was that Joseph Shine judgment only decriminalised adultery but that did not bar disciplinary action.

The court's observations came against the backdrop of the submissions put forth by ASG Madhavi Divan for the MoD in which she apprised the bench of the fact that disciplinary actions were taken against the armed forces for adultery but the same were quashed by the Armed Forces Tribunal in light of Joseph Shine judgment. She added that action against these officers was imperative to ensure that officers who were serving in far flung areas away from their families did not feel insecure. Divan also contended that action was taken against the officers irrespective of their gender and even a female officer would be hauled up for misconduct if she was found to be involved in adulterous activities.

J&K on high alert after 2 bus blasts before Amit Shah visit

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

TWO high-intensity blasts in Jammu and Kashmir's Udhampur district within a span of eight hours have sent security agencies into a tizzy as the explosions come barely a week before Union Home Minister Amit Shah's visit to the Union territory.

The first blast took place in a parked bus near a petrol pump at Domail Chowk, Udhampur at around 10:30 pm on Wednesday. Two persons who were sleeping in another bus parked nearby sustained minor injuries. The explosion was caught on CCTV.

The second blast took place in an empty parked bus at Old Bus Stand Udhampur, about 2 km from the spot of the first blast, at around 6 am. No casualties or injuries were caused in the second explosion.

Bomb disposal squads and experts of police, CRPF, the Army and intelligence officials visited both the spots to collect samples and ascertain the nature of the blast and explosives used. An NIA team also visited. It is expected that the central agency will take over the probe.

Preliminary investigation indicated that the two blasts were similar in nature, said Mukesh Singh, additional director general of police, Jammu zone. "Maybe, a single module was involved in both the explosions," he said, adding high intensity explosives appear to have been used. Asked whether sticky bombs were used, the ADGP said it can't be ruled out. "It seems the timer devices were used."

UPA wasn't concerned about Guj: PM

Says was tired of telling then Central govt about importance of an airport in Surat

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

In his two-day visit to poll-bound Gujarat, Prime Minister Modi on Thursday indirectly blamed the previous UPA government in the Centre for the "lack of concern" for the state's development.

Citing his personal experience, the PM said when he was the Gujarat CM, he felt frustrated in repeatedly explaining the need for an airport in Surat to the then UPA government.

While addressing a gathering in Bhavnagar, he said Gujarat has the longest coastline in the country, but due to the lack of focus, the state's coastal development remained a big challenge during post-independence decades.

The PM laid the foundation stone and inaugurated projects worth ₹3,400 crore. "We were tired of telling the then Central government of the importance of an airport for Surat. Today, you know how many flights operate from there, how many people land there every day, and how it has helped the city's development. This is the benefit of the double-engine government," he said.

He inaugurated Phase-I of road infrastructure works and the main entrance of Diamond Research and Mercantile (DREAM) City. The PM said Surat would emerge as the safest and most convenient diamond trading hub in the world.

The PM noted Surat's textile and diamond business, which sustains the lives of thousands of families across the country.

On the National Logistics Policy, the Prime Minister said work was underway on multi-modal connectivity in the state. Giving an example of linking Surat to Kashi and eastern Uttar Pradesh, the PM said truckloads of goods are transported daily, and now the railways and coastal departments have come up with unique innovations to boost the number of shipments.

"The railways has changed the design of its coaches in such a way that cargo can easily fit in them. After the initial success, an attempt is being made to run a new train from Surat to Kashi for commercial and passenger services," the PM added.

"In the coming years, Surat will also be known for electric vehicles. Today 25 charging stations have been inaugurated in Surat city and the foundation stone for the same number of stations has been laid. This is a big step towards setting up 500 charging stations across Surat. We shall continue the pace of development," he said.

The PM also inaugurated and laid the foundation stones for projects worth over ₹5,200 crore in Bhavnagar. Among the projects is the world's first CNG Terminal and the brownfield port at Bhavnagar.

Cong, AAP spar in Punjab House over leaked audio tape

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

RUCKUS prevailed in the Punjab Assembly on the second day of the special session following the Congress demand for dismissal and arrest of cabinet minister Fauja Singh Sarari over an alleged extortion audio clip. Ruling Aam Aadmi Party MLAs raised slogans against the Congress, calling it the BJP's B-team.

The session got off to a stormy start with the leader of opposition Partap Singh Bajwa charging Sarari's role in the alleged audio clip. He said serving a show-cause notice by the party to the minister was not enough. He demanded the CM's statement on the issue. Congress MLA Sukhpal Khaira asked Speaker Kultar Singh Sandhwan to assure the House that CM Bhagwant Mann would issue a statement, but the Speaker expressed his inability to do so.

Congress MLAs came wearing aprons with photos of Sarari and demanded action against the Minister. In the purported audio clip, the minister is heard devising an "extortion plan" with his aide.

AAP MLAs also raised slogans against the Congress. Both sides continued to raise slogans until the Speaker adjourned the House. When the proceedings resumed, the ruckus continued despite the Speaker's requests.

Bajwa reminded the government that CM Mann had sacked its Minister Vijay Singla soon after assuming power on corruption charges on the basis of an audio clip. The CM was not present in the Assembly. Finance Minister Harpal Cheema said the Congress did not want the House to function. Two BJP MLAs – Ashwani Sharma and Jangi Lal Mahajan – were also absent from the House.

When the House reassembled, the Speaker expressed his displeasure over the conduct of Congress legislators.

In Gehlot-Pilot battle, Joshi may be winner

After the political turmoil in the Rajasthan Congress last Sunday, Assembly Speaker CP Joshi was seen enjoying a polo match along with some MLAs on Monday. Experts believe that in the 2008 assembly elections, if Joshi had not lost the poll from Nathdwara seat by one vote, he would have been the chief minister instead of Ashok Gehlot. In the tussle between the CM and his former deputy Sachin Pilot, Joshi's name is again in the headlines. Due to the opposition of MLAs to Pilot, Joshi's luck can shine and he may get the CM post which he has been chasing for 14 years.

Cong crisis helps BJP conceal its own battles

Given the Congress crisis, party leaders from Jaipur to Delhi are suffering sleepless nights. But the BJP is enjoying the spectacle of Congressmen burning their own house. There is a lot of discussion about Pilot's secret love for BJP in the tussle over the CM post between Gehlot and Pilot. Key BJP leaders like state party President Satish Poonia and Deputy Leader of Opposition Rajendra Rathod have praised Pilot and made comments which suggest that the doors of the party are open for Pilot. The Congress rift has taken the focus away from the battle within Rajasthan BJP where a dozen leaders are in line to be CM.

CM tussle may take toll on leaders' image

Political corridors are buzzing that in the ongoing political turmoil in Rajasthan, not only will the Congress suffer a big jolt in the elections next year but both the main characters, CM Gehlot and Sachin Pilot will suffer heavy losses. Gehlot's image of being the most loyal general of the Gandhis, built through his 50 years of hard work, has already suffered a big setback. Two years ago, in trying to topple his own party's government while being state party president, Pilot's image had been tarnished which is still not recovering. But now, by making over 70 of his MLAs threaten to resign against Pilot, Gehlot supporters has done a lot of damage to his image beside calling him 'traitor'.

Mamata govt to move SC against HC order on doorstep ration scheme

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

THE West Bengal government is likely to move the Supreme Court challenging Calcutta High Court's verdict declaring chief minister Mamata Banerjee's "dream project" legally void. Food and supplies minister Rathin Ghosh hinted that the court order would be analysed with the help of legal experts and then a petition would be filed before the top court.

"The initiative earned massive response from the common people, especially in rural Bengal. We will try our level best to keep the scheme alive," said Ghosh.

The West Bengal government on Thursday received a major setback as the Calcutta High Court termed the "Duare Ration" (food grain at your doorstep) as a division bench termed the initiative as legally void. The scheme was promised by Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee before the 2021 Assembly elections and implemented after the TMC came to power for a third straight term.

"Duare Ration Scheme is ultra vires the National Food Security Act (NFSA), 2013, and is therefore a nullity in the eye of law," said the division bench.

Sources in the state food department said Mamata asked the officers of her administration to consult with the legal experts before moving to the Apex court. "The decision of going to the Supreme Court is final," said an official.

> The HC order barring the scheme will prove a blow before the panchayat elections. Most of the beneficiaries are from rural Bengal and the scheme secured support of a large section of electorates
>
> A senior TMC leader

A section of legal experts, however, said since the high court observed that the scheme is ultra vires the NFSA, it would not be easy to convince the Apex court against the verdict of the high court.

"The Arvind Kejriwal-led government in Delhi initiated the similar move but the court termed it illegal on the same ground that the Calcutta High Court observed," said the official.

The setback for Mamata's government came after a section of the ration dealers moved the court saying their manpower strength and infrastructure do not support the scheme to provide food grain at the doorstep of beneficiaries.

Rice, salt in mid-day meal, principal suspended

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

PRINCIPAL of a government primary school in the Chaurebazar area in Ayodhya district was suspended by the district magistrate on Thursday for serving rice and salt to students in their mid-day meal.

Acting on the block development officer (BDO) Amit Kumar Srivastava's report, district magistrate Nitish Kumar suspended Ekta Yadav, the principal of Dihwa Pandey school.

The incident came to light on Wednesday when the parents of some of the students thronged school and captured the entire scene on their mobile phones and posted it on social media. Sources said that the students had already informed their parents about the poor quality of food they were getting at the school in the name of the mid-day meal.

On Wednesday, several local residents reached the school and protested against the principal. They later approached the BDO and raised the issue with him.

The DM said, "I have ordered an enquiry. The enquiry will be conducted by Basic Siksha Adhikari. The principal has also been suspended.

Shinde's fiat to ministers: 'No one should speak to media unless told'

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

IN view of negative publicity, Maharashtra Chief Minister Eknath Shinde reprimanded his minister and asked them not to make any controversial statements.

Maharashtra CM had a meeting with his faction's ministers and MLAs where he told them to not skirt any controversy.

"I am chief minister of Maharashtra still I am not making any statements on the sensitive issues. But you people are making all sorts of statements that are creating negative perceptions about our factions among people. Unless I say, no one should speak with the media. You should avoid speaking with the media about every issue," Shinde told his ministers.

Shinde further told his ministers that they are fighting the long legal battle against Uddhav Thackeray-led Shiv Sena and their one statement can change the scenario. "Shinde wants to win the perception battle against Uddhav Thackeray. At present, there is a lot of public sympathy towards Uddhav Thackeray, and Shinde has been perceived as the villain who snatched the chair of Thackeray. Shinde wants to change this perception by winning many hearts and close associates of Uddhav Thackeray, but his ministers are continuously stoking the controversy and diverting the agenda," said a senior leader close to Shinde.

Tanaji Sawant, the health minister who belongs to Shinde camp apologized for his objectionable comment against the Maratha community. Sawant during his speech said that the Maratha community had developed an "itch" for reservations. Earlier also, he made several controversies. The Opposition demanded sacking of Sawant for his controversial remarks against the Maratha community.

Earlier, a photo of CM Shinde's son Shreekant Shinde sitting in the chief minister's chair had gone viral. Later, Shreekant Shinde clarified that it was not the CM chair, but their office chair where the chief minister board was by mistakenly kept in the background.

Tanaji trolled

Meanwhile, Tanaji Sawant was trolled on social media for his alleged goof-ups in his meeting schedule. Sawant became the subject of various memes as the schedule only mentioned his travel from his private office to his home and back.

The document went viral and became the topic of jokes, after which Sawant's office revised the schedule.

Rashmi Thackeray visits Shinde's stronghold in Thane

The wife of Uddhav Thackeray, Rashmi Thackeray, visited Maharashtra CM Eknath Shinde's stronghold Thane on Thursday. Rashmi visited the Tembhi Naka Navratri Mandal in Thane. Rashmi was accompanied by Shiv Sena Lok Sabha MP Rajan Vichare and former Mumbai mayor Kishori Pednekar among others. Earlier, Shiv Sena shared an image of Rashmi congratulating the party workers after Bombay High court granted permission to Uddhav Thackeray-led Shiv Sena to hold its annual Dusshera rally at Shivaji Park. Sources in Shiv Sena said that Rashmi has always been the tacit support to Uddhav, but of late she has been more vocal and visible within the Sena circle and telling her party workers that she is very much there even though it is a long political battle against Maharashtra CM and the BJP in Maharashtra. ENS

Haryana to develop world's largest safari park in Gurugram & Nuh

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

HARYANA has decided to hire two international firms to develop the world's largest jungle safari park spread across 10,000 acres in the Aravalli range of Gurugram and Nuh districts near Delhi.

"The proposed project will be jointly developed by the Union Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change and the Haryana government. The Centre will also provide funds to the state for the project," said Haryana CM Manohar Lal Khattar.

Currently, the largest curated safari park outside Africa is in Sharjah, which was opened in February this year in 2,000 acres. The proposed Aravalli park will be five times that size and it will include a large herpetarium (A zoological exhibition space for reptiles and amphibians), aviary/bird park, four zones for big cats, a large area for herbivores, an area for exotic birds, an underwater world, nature trails, tourism zones, botanical gardens and biomes. A foundation will be set up to manage the project, sources said. The government has shortlisted two companies for the area development.

Union Minister for Environment and Forests Bhupender Yadav with Haryana Chief Minister Manohar Lal Khattar during a visit to a jungle safari in UAE | PTI

Union Minister for Forest, Environment and Climate Change Bhupender Yadav, Khattar and a delegation recently visited the Sharjah Jungle Safari. Khattar said the NCR region of Haryana has immense potential to be developed into a jungle safari that can give a boost to the tourism sector but also provide job opportunities to the local people.

He said that an international Expression of Interest (EOI) was floated for the project and the two companies with experience in designing and operating safari facilities have been shortlisted. These companies will now vie in a global competition for designing, overseeing and operating the park.

Cheer for small savers as govt raises rates of some schemes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

IN what could bring a big smile on the face of small savers, the government has increased the interest rates on some small savings schemes that don't get tax benefit. This is for the first time since January 2019 that the rates on these schemes have been revised upwards.

From next month, the Senior Citizen Savings Scheme will earn 7.6% interest rate instead of 7.4% now. The rates on two- and three-year post office deposits have been raised from 5.5% to 5.7% and 5.8%, respectively. The interest rate on the Monthly Income Account Scheme has also been increased, from 6.6% to 6.7%.

However, the government has not extended the relief to all as the rates of popular instruments such has the Public Provident Fund Scheme (7.1%), National Savings Certificate (6.8%) and Sukanya Samriddhi (7.6%) remain unchanged.

The interest rates on small savings schemes are linked to yields on government securities. The Reserve Bank of India has raised the benchmark lending rate by 1.4% since May, nudging the yield on government bonds to go up.

Row over IAS officer's 'free condom' rebuke

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

BIHAR chief minister Nitish Kumar on Thursday said that action would be initiated against the senior IAS officer Harjot Kaur Bamhrah for her 'free condom' rebuke at a function held in the state capital on Wednesday.

Talking to the media on the sidelines of an 'investors' meet' held in Patna, Nitish said, "I have called a meeting of the senior officials to know the matter. We are helping to empower women. I am monitoring each and everything."

The CM said, "Action will be initiated. I have immediately summoned the officers concerned to discuss the issue." Nitish's statement came barely hours after the national commission for women took cognisance of the matter and sought an explanation from 1992-batch Bihar cadre IAS officer, who is posted as principal secretary of the state's women and child welfare department.

RUSSIA TO FORMALLY ANNEX FOUR UKRAINE REGIONS TODAY

Kherson, Zaporizhzhia, Donetsk and Lugansk will give Putin a land corridor to Crimea

MOSCOW

RUSSIA will formally annex four regions of Ukraine its troops occupy at a grand ceremony in Moscow on Friday, the Kremlin has announced, after it suggested using nuclear weapons to defend the territories.

The threats from senior Russian officials have not deterred a sweeping counter-offensive from Kyiv, which has been pushing back Russian troops in the east and is edging nearer the Donetsk region city of Lyman that Moscow's forces battered for weeks to fully capture.

President Vladimir Putin's spokesman Dmitry Peskov said the annexation would be formalised at a ceremony in the Kremlin. The Russian leader will make a "major" speech, he added.

The four territories — Kherson and Zaporizhzhia in the south; Donetsk and Lugansk in the east — create a crucial land corridor between Russia and the Crimean peninsula, annexed by Moscow in 2014.

"Tomorrow in Saint George's Hall at the Grand Kremlin Palace at 15.00 pm a signing ceremony will take place on the incorporation of the new territories into Russia," Peskov told reporters.

The Kremlin-installed leaders of the four regions were gathered in the Russian capital on Thursday, a day after pro-Moscow authorities had appealed to Putin directly to integrate the territories into Russia.

Their nearly simultaneous requests to the Kremlin came after the four regions claimed residents had unanimously backed the move in hastily organised referendums that were dismissed by Kyiv and the West as illegal, fraudulent and void.

Ukraine after the so-called referendums said the only appropriate response from the West was to hit Russia with more sanctions and to supply Ukrainian forces with more weapons to keep reclaiming territory.

"Ukraine cannot and will not tolerate any attempts by Russia to seize any part of our land," President Volodymyr Zelensky said late on Wednesday. AFP

Finland to ban entry of Russian tourists

Helsinki: The Finnish government said Thursday it would significantly limit passenger traffic on Finland's border with Russia, banning Russian citizens travelling with tourist visas from entering the Nordic country effective on Friday. The government said continued arrivals of Russian tourists in Finland is endangering the country's international relations. Russian citizens can still enter Finland for family reasons, for study or work purposes

Recession fears in US as economy shrinks by 0.6%

WASHINGTON

BATTERED by surging consumer prices and rising interest rates, the US economy shrank at a 0.6% annual rate from April through June, the government announced on Thursday, unchanged from its previous second-quarter estimate.

It marked the second consecutive quarter of economic contraction, one informal rule of thumb for a recession.

Most economists, citing a strong and resilient American job market, believe the world's biggest economy is not yet in a downturn.

But they worry that it might be headed for one as the Federal Reserve ratchets up interest rates to combat inflation. Consumer spending grew at a 2% annual rate, but that gain was offset by a drop in business inventories and housing investment. Unemployment is at 3.7%, low by historic standards. There are currently about two jobs for every unemployed American. But the Fed has raised interest rates five times this year — most recently Sept. 21 — to rein in consumer prices, which were up 8.3% in August from a year earlier despite plummeting gasoline prices. Higher borrowing costs raise the risk of a recession and higher unemployment. "We have got to get inflation behind us," Fed Chair Jerome Powell said last week. "I wish there was a painless way to do that. There isn't."

The risk of recession — along with persistently and painfully high prices — poses an obstacle to President Joe Biden's Democrats as they try to retain control of Congress in November's midterm elections. However, drops in gasoline prices have improved consumers' spirits in the past two months.

Thursday's report was the Commerce Department's third and final take on second-quarter growth. The first look at the economy's July-September performance comes out October 27. Economists, on average, expect that GDP returned to growth in the third quarter, expanding at a modest 1.5% annual pace. AP

GDP down, but job market stays strong

The US economy has been sending out mixed signals this year. Gross domestic product went backward in the first half of 2022. But the job market has stayed strong. Employers are adding an average 4,38,000 jobs a month this year, on pace to be the second-best year for hiring (behind 2021) in government records going back to 1940

Maryam Nawaz, vice president of PML-N

Pak's Maryam Nawaz, spouse acquitted in corruption case

ISLAMABAD

A top Pakistani court on Thursday acquitted ruling Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N) vice president Maryam Nawaz in a corruption case in which she was jailed for seven years, in a major legal victory for her who is now eligible to contest elections.

A two-judge Islamabad High Court (IHC) bench comprising Justices Aamer Farooq and Mohsin Akhtar Kayani, acquitted her, saying Maryam and Nawaz Sharif's connection to the assets beyond means has not been proven in the Avenfield case. She was jailed for seven years by an anti-corruption court that also slapped a fine of 2 million pound after it found her guilty of being "instrumental in concealment of the properties of her father" who was sentenced to 10 years in prison in the Avenfield case. Her husband Capt Safdar was also handed one year in jail for failure to cooperate with the National Accountability Bureau (NAB) and for aiding and abetting Nawaz and Maryam. Maryam and her husband challenged their convictions in the Avenfield property case and their appeal was accepted by the IHC. PTI

Truss defends tax cut as pound hits all-time low

LONDON

UK Prime Minister Liz Truss on Thursday defended her tax cutting policy after days of silence during which markets tanked and the Bank of England was forced into an emergency intervention.

"We had to take urgent action to get our economy growing, get Britain moving, and also deal with inflation," she said in a round of local BBC radio interviews. "And of course, that means taking controversial and difficult decisions, but I'm prepared to do that as prime minister," she said in her first comments to UK media since the crisis sparked by Friday's "mini-budget". "It's important the United Kingdom's on the front foot, that we are pulling all the levers we can to drive economic growth. That is what we are pushing ahead with."

In power for less than a month, Truss is already under severe pressure after the markets reacted to her government's tax cuts by sending the pound to an all-time low against the dollar. UK markets remain highly volatile, with the central bank intervening on Wednesday to buy government bonds in order to prevent a "material risk" to stability. AFP

Lawmaker rides his horse through Congress

Bagota: Members of Colombia's Congress can now bring their pets to work, in a world first, and for one senator, wild horses couldn't have dragged him away from marking the first day of the new rule. Alirio Barrera showed up to work astride his white horse. He first rode through the capital Bogota before steering his steed into the halls of Congress, to make a statement about the importance of horses for the Colombian countryside. It rubbed some colleagues the wrong way. Senator Andrea Padilla called it "an immature attitude with which he wanted to ridicule a good decision."

Govt cuts FY23 borrowing by ₹10k cr

Centre on Thursday said that it will borrow ₹5.92 lakh crore in the second half of the year

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE government has cut its borrowing for the current financial year by ₹10,000 crore to ₹14.21 lakh crore.

The Centre in a statement on Thursday said it will borrow ₹5.92 lakh crore in the second half of the year. The borrowing during the period would include ₹16,000 crore raised via maiden sovereign green bonds. TNIE had earlier reported that finance ministry would announce green bonds issuance in the second half. The borrowing has been slashed amid fiscal pressures on account of recently announced free food grain distribution for the poor, increased fertilizer subsidy and dearness allowance hike. The government has set a fiscal deficit target of 6.4% of gross domestic product (GDP) for the current fiscal. With a lower than budgeted borrowings in the current financial year, the fiscal deficit figure should have looked better.

But experts believe the nominal GDP growth may get hampered due to the recessionary conditions prevailing across the country. India has budgeted for 11.1% nominal GDP growth rate in FY23. "The gross market borrowing of ₹5.76 lakh crore (40.5%) shall be completed through 20 weekly auctions. The market borrowing will be spread over 2, 5, 7, 10, 14, 30 and 40-year securities," the finance ministry statement said. The government in the first half had borrowed ₹8.45 lakh crore.

Meanwhile, the government has finally after much speculation announced the quantum of money (₹16,000 crore) it plans to raise through green bonds. Finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman in her budget speech had announced the Centre's plan to issue green bonds in the financial year 2022-23 (FY23) as part of its overall market borrowing to mobilise resources for green infrastructure.

To take care of temporary mismatches in government accounts, the Reserve Bank of India has fixed the Ways and Mean Advances (WMA) limit for the second half of FY23 at ₹50,000 crore. The central bank may trigger fresh floatation of market loans when the Centre utilises 75% of the WMA limit. WMA are temporary advances given by the RBI to the central and state governments to tide over any mismatch in receipts and payments.

Q1 current account deficit widens to 2.8% of GDP

INDIA'S current account deficit, an indicator of the balance of payment position, in the first quarter of the fiscal widened to 2.8% of GDP at $23.9 billion, mainly on account of a higher trade deficit. The current account had a surplus of $6.6 billion, equivalent to 0.9% of GDP, in the first quarter (April-June) of 2021-22. As per RBI daata, the current account balance recorded a deficit of $23.9 billion (2.8% of GDP) in the first quarter. ENS

Adani Ent may see $189 mn inflows post-Nifty entry

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

ADANI ENTERPRISES (AEL), the flagship Adani Group company, could see maximum inflow and Shree Cement the maximum outflow of funds after the Nifty indices rejig takes effect on Friday, according to Edelweiss Alternative and Quantitative Research report.

The report said two Adani Group stocks will witness very high fund inflow following the rejig. AEL, which will be added to the Nifty50 after an upgrade from the Nifty Next 50, could see an inflow of $189 million while Adani Total Gas, which will be included in the Nifty Next 50, will likely see an inflow of $42 million.

The research firm has calculated that Adani Enterprises is likely to see additional buying of 4.3 million shares, 1.3 times the 20-day average volumes following the rejig.

On the contrary, Shree Cement could see an outflow of $56 million. IT firm Mindtree, which is being excluded from Nifty Next 50, is expected to see outflow of $55 million, as per the report.

AEL is becoming the second company from the billionaire Gautam Adani-promoted Group to be included in the Nifty 50 index after Adani Ports and SEZ. The indices are reshuffled periodically and stocks are taken in or removed depending on the change in their average free-float market cap. When a stock is included in a known index, it gets money from passive funds that track indices.

A senior fund manager at a leading Asset Management Company said the valuation of Nifty is going to go up as market-caps of all Adani group Companies are very high vis-à-vis the profit they generate. "For active fund managers like us, it will be difficult to outperform some of the index funds that have Adani group companies (given their level of valuations) till the cycle reverses," he said. There is also curiosity in the market as to how AEL's entry in the Nifty50 index would impact the index's price-to-equity ratio (P/E) as AEL's P/E stands at about 394 as against Nifty50's 20.1. Adani Enterprises will enter the Nifty with a weightage of 1.29%, while Shree Cement, which is being excluded, had a weightage of 0.38%.

Adani firm gets ₹10K cr for Ganga Exp project

Adani Enterprises on Thursday said its three wholly-owned subsidiaries have achieved financial closure for the access-controlled six-lane greenfield Ganga Expressway Project in Uttar Pradesh under public-private partnership mode. The company said it has secured finances of ₹10,238 crore from lenders.

ITC CLAIM

GST officers detect ₹824 cr tax evasion by insurance cos

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE Director General of GST Intelligence (DGGI) has detected ₹824-crore worth of input tax credit being illegally availed by 15 life and non-life insurance companies.

The Mumbai zonal unit of DGGI started investigation based on specific information against ICICI Prudential Life Insurance wrongly claiming ITC.

During the investigation, it found that 15 insurance companies with the help of intermediaries and NBFCs were fraudulently availing input tax credit by furnishing fake invoices of marketing services.

According to sources, investigation by the GST intelligence revealed that these insurance companies had formed an arrangement with the intermediaries 'to pass on ineligible ITC in the guise of marketing services and raising fake invoices'.

The DGGI sources also said that these companies have been using this modus operandi to avail ineligible ITC since the GST came into force in 2017. "It appears that the modus was systematically planned and executed mainly at the behest of insurance companies," said sources.

So far, the DGGI has detected ₹824 crore of fraudulent ITC claims. Some of the insurance companies, which availed and utilised the ineligible ITC have voluntarily paid a total amount of ₹217 crore (including ₹100 crore by ICICI Prudential Life Insurance).

Officials from the ministry of finance have confirmed that the GST department has indeed unearthed the fraudulent ITC racket, but it has not issued any formal statement on the matter yet. It is said that both life and non-life insurance companies are involved in the scam.

NRI bonds, gold import curbs: A peek into RBI's arsenal against rupee's fall

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

AS the descent of rupee to new lows continues, what are the options the country's central bank and the government have to check fall in the local currency against the US dollar?

Experts suggest a slew of measures including easing of norms for external commercial borrowings, raising non-resident bonds, restricting gold imports and even reducing the limit for personal remittances. While some says the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has enough room to sell dollar from the forex reserve to support the currency. The Indian currency has been continuously falling against the dollar, with RBI taking several measures to defend it including selling of dollars. As per experts, India has enough forex reserves to deal with plummeting currency. The country's forex reserves came down to $545.65 billion on September 23, 2022, from $642 billion in June, 2022, as per the RBI data.

"RBI has enough room to sell dollar reserves to control the falling rupee. It can sell up to nearly 95 billion dollars. But for the long run, the trade deficit will have to be controlled," said Ravi Singh, vice-president and head of research, Share India.

"In addition, the rupee can be converted into international currency to control falling currency. However, it will take time. If the government maintains low inflation and stable growth then foreign investors can be attracted," he further added.

Meanwhile, Nomura in its report said the potential measures by India to contain the depreciating rupee could be further easing norms around external commercial borrowings and new bilateral swap agreements. Additionally, it can boost the currency by raising non-resident Indian (NRI) bonds, increasing cash reserve ratio (CRR), restriction on gold imports and decrease in personal remittance among others. The central bank can also consider reinitiating foreign currency non-resident scheme (FCNR) swap scheme as done in 2013, said the Japanese bank. However, as per Yes Bank, it could be challenging to raise dollars via FCNR bonds this time as the interest differential has dipped to unattractive levels.

Zero's consolidated revenue for the year ended 31st December 2021 was US$60.7 million. This fresh investment by Hero comes after it had announced early this year an investment of more than $56 million in one of India's known EV makers- Ather Energy. Hero has a stake of over 35% in Ather. Hero is launching its first electric product, under its emerging mobility brand Vida, Powered by Hero, on October 7, 2022.

'High attrition to plague IT industry; 2 mn staff likely to leave jobs by '25'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

OVER 2 million IT employees are expected to leave their jobs by 2025. This comes at a time when the Indian IT industry is struggling with a 23-25% attrition rate, and IT companies are taking various steps to retain employees.

Tech staffing firm TeamLease Digital has launched 'Talent Exodus Report', which says that IT companies are experiencing dysfunctional turnover where the best employees of companies are voluntarily leaving at higher rates.'Brain Drain's is at present plaguing the IT industry and the report says employees are re-evaluating their careers and they prefer flexibility.

Currently, over 5 million people are working in the country's $227 billion IT industry. While IT company Infosys reported the highest attrition of 28.4% in the first quarter, Wipro's attrition rate stood at 23.3%. In case of contract staffing, attrition for the current fiscal will be up to 55% compared to 49% in the last fiscal. One of the ways to reduce attrition is to tap into the smaller cities/tier-2 and 3 cities for acquisition of talent, the report adds. Sunil Chemmankotil, chief executive officer, TeamLease Digital, said, "With the global pandemic disrupting the IT hiring chain, there is evidence of a reverse trend, which indicates that retaining a business-critical talent has undergone a great change in the last two years." The survey indicates that 57% of IT professionals would not consider returning to the IT services sector in the future. The sector contributed 9% to the national GDP and accounted for 51% of services exports. It also added a total of 4.5 lakh freshers in FY23, which is the highest addition in a single year. Apart from this, moonlighting or dual employment is the other challenge the industry has been facing for a few months now. Aditya Narayan Mishra, MD and CEO of CIEL HR Services said that avoiding moonlighting is not the solution. "Organisations should evolve a policy to lay down the rules for taking up a second assignment on the side. As long as the second assignment doesn't hurt the other and helps employees fulfil their aspirations to take up interesting challenges," he said.

IT industry attrition rate

Currently, over 5 million are working in the $227 billion IT industry. While IT company Infosys reported the highest attrition of 28.4% in Q1, Wipro's attrition rate stood at 23.3%

TOTAL ENERGIES TO SELL SMALL STAKE IN ADANI GREEN

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

FRENCH energy giant Total Energies SE said it is planning to sell a small portion of its 20% stake that it holds in Adani Green Energy to cash in on the jump in the valuation of the Indian renewable energy producer.

The company bought 20% stake in Adani Green in 2021 for $2 billion. TotalEnergies' stake at the company was worth nearly $10 billion at the end of August. According to the reports, Patrick Pouyanne, the chief executive officer of TotalEnergies, said in response to a question during an investor presentation on Wednesday that the appreciation in value is "a source of potential cash".

In an interview in New York, Pouyanne said his company has no plan right now to cut its holding, and if it did so, any reduction would be small and only to recoup some of its initial investment. "We are committed to Adani Green," he said in the interview. Adani Green's shares are up 54% this year, compared to a 1.8% decline in the benchmark S&P BSE Sensex Index. Still, Adani Green is down 15% so far this month amid concerns that it's sitting on too much debt as it expands its businesses. In June, TotalEnergies agreed to buy a 25% stake in Adani New Industries for an undisclosed sum, part of a plan to invest billions of dollars in green hydrogen development in India. Adani New Industries is owned by Adani Enterprises, the flagship firm of the coal-to-ports conglomerate controlled by the Indian magnate.

Gautam Adani, Asia's richest man, has pledged to invest about $70 billion in the entire green energy supply chain by 2030. His group aims to become the world's biggest renewable power producer by the end of this decade.

TotalEnergies' stake worth nearly $10 billion

TotalEnergies' bought 20% stake in Adani Green in 2021 for $2 billion. The stake was worth nearly $10 billion at the end of August

'Phone manufacturing in India up 14 times in 8 yrs'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

MOBILE phone manufacturing in India grew 14 times in 8 years, said the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology (Meity) on Thursday.

The ministry noted that the PLI Scheme has turned out to be a catalyst for the growth of India's electronics manufacturing sector. "Mobile phone production, which had sunk to ₹18,900 crore in 2014-15, is now up over 14 times to ₹2,75,000 crore, of which a 28% jump of ₹60,000 crore was recorded within the first year of the scheme," said the ministry.

The scheme, the government believes, also helped increase mobile exports, which were almost zero in 2015-16 to reach ₹27,000 crore in 2019-20. The ministry said within the first year of the scheme, mobile phone manufacturing saw a 66% rise to ₹45,000 crore. "In a YoY comparison for the first 5 months of April-August, mobile exports were up 140% to ₹25,000 crore from ₹10,300 crore." PLI scheme on Large-Scale Electronic Manufacturing, which includes manufacturing of mobile phones and specified electronic components, was approved in March 2020, with an outlay of ₹38,645 crore. Nearly 16 firms, (5 global firms under category Mobile Phone (Invoice value ₹15,000 and above), 5 domestic and 6 overseas companies under Specified Electronic Components were approved under the scheme.

24 sellers became crorepatis during festive sale: E-comm platform Meesho

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

SOFTBANK-backed Meesho on Thursday claimed that nearly 20,000 sellers on its platform have become 'lakhpatis' and 24 sellers became crorepatis during the sale event that concluded on Tuesday.

Customers are said to have placed 3.34 crore orders during the 5-day event, up 68% from the previous year sale. Nearly 60% of orders came from Tier 4 cities and beyond. Meesho, which turned unicorn last year, said transacting users jumped by 60% during the sale, which include those who are new-to-ecommerce and shopping online for the first time. Vidit Aatrey, founder and CEO at Meesho, said, "Over 80% of orders during the festive sale came from tier 2+ markets. We aim to go deeper into India's underserved regions."

Meanwhile, Meesho has received $192 million from Meesho Inc, its parent entity. When asked about it, Meesho said, "The internal movement of funds is a part of our larger treasury strategy as aligned with our Board and is a normal BAU (business as usual) practice. This is not related (to) festive season or any other aspect of our operations." When asked about ONDC (Open Network for Digital Commerce), a Meesho Spokesperson said, "ONDC is a game changing initiative around bringing in a large network of buyers, suppliers as well as enabling the expansion of ecommerce, thereby bringing in more masses online." The firm feels ONDC can reduce the barriers for sellers to come online as well as buyers. Besides tapping into new users, ONDC will enable platforms with sizable business-to-business verticals to tap into the seller side of the ONDC network to supply goods. "As ONDC is at an early-stage firm, we are monitoring the developments that are taking place and waiting for further details to emerge. However, we think this can prove to be the backbone of ecommerce in India, same as UPI has been for digital payments," the spokesperson added.

BUMRAH UNLIKELY FOR WC

BCCI sends pacer to NCA, scan results will ascertain magnitude and nature of injury

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

EVEN as Jasprit Bumrah's scan results are awaited at the National Cricket Academy in Bengaluru, the pacer is unlikely to fly with the rest of the team for the T20 World Cup next week. Rohit Sharma & Co are scheduled to depart for Australia on October 6 and as things stand, Bumrah is a non-starter with the BCCI medical team monitoring his fitness.

Bumrah, who missed the Asia Cup campaign because of a back injury, was included in India's squads for the T20Is against Australia and South Africa after clearing a fitness test at the NCA. And keeping his nature of injury in mind, India's plan was to use him sporadically in the six matches. While he didn't play the first T20I against Australia, Bumrah bowled six overs in the next two matches before complaining of back pain on the eve of India's match against Australia in Thiruvananthapuram.

The BCCI has sent him to the NCA, where fresh tests have been taken to ascertain the magnitude of the injury. While the recurring nature of the injury points to a stress fracture — this could rule Bumrah out of action for next six-eight months — sources in the know are not ruling out the possibility of a stress reaction. In case it is a stress reaction, there is a slim chance of Bumrah featuring in the later part of the T20 World Cup. But then again, stress reactions usually act as a red flag, which could cause stress fracture going forward. In 2019, soon after the World Cup, Bumrah had asuffered a minor stress fracture on his lower back in September. He returned to action only in January 2020.

This has thrown up questions as to how Bumrah – a pacer whose workload has been managed well in recent times – has suffered a recurring back injury in such a short span of time. Since the last T20 World Cup — which came at the end of a packed international and IPL — the Indian team-management has been emphasizing on managing the workloads of the players. Since the last T20 World Cup, Bumrah has featured in only six Tests, five ODIs and as many T20Is for India, apart from playing all 14 matches for Mumbai Indians in the IPL.

After the completion of the England tour, Burmah received adequate rest before joining the NCA for a rehab process for back injury. But with Bumrah complaining of back pain soon after joining the Indian camp, it leads to questions as to whether due process was followed during rehab or was there any delay in assessing the nature of his injury. Stress fractures tend to give an indication through stress reactions and it usually happens due to bad workload management. According to experts, even overloading symptoms would have shown up.

With regards to the T20 World Cup, even if it is a stress reaction, the chances of Burmah regaining full fitness ahead of India's first match against Pakistan are all but ruled out as he would need adequate rest. India do not want to take a half-fit Bumrah as it could complicate matters and are looking at one of Deepak Chahar and Mohammed Shami as potential replacements.

In Bumrah's absence, end overs have become a huge headache for India and it remains to be seen how the team would cope at the World Cup.

If it is just a stress reaction, he could have a slim chance of featuring in WC | AFP

Rashid placed tied 2nd, Kapur 7th in Taipei

TAMSUI (CHINESE TAIPEI): India's Rashid Khan played an eventful first round and shot a fine five-under 67 to lie one-shot off the lead at the Mercuries Taiwan Masters golf tournament here on Thursday. Rashid, a two-time winner on the Asian Tour, was one shot behind defending champion Wang Wei-hsiang, who picked up from where he left in last year's event with a six-under 66. It was a good day for the Indians, as Shiv Kapur, who opened last week's event in Chinese Taipei with an eight-under card, was once again solid in the first round here with a four-under 68 that placed him at T-7. Veer Ahlawat (69) was T-13.

Boxer Shiva wins WBC Asia Continental title

BANGKOK: Indian super middleweight boxer Shiva Thakran was crowned WBC Asia Continental champion after he clinched a Technical Knockout (TKO) victory over Malaysia's Adli Hafidz here. The Indian caused ripples in the Asian Pro Boxing circuit with the eighth-round stoppage win. The fight had been three months in the making and Thakran had moved up two weight divisions from his usual super welterweight. "When this fight was made, nobody expected me to last more than 6 rounds, let alone win by a KO. A lot of people had written me off as I hadn't fought in more than a year," Shiva said.

Former FIFA referee Sumanta Ghosh no more

KOLKATA: Kolkata-based former FIFA referee Sumanta Ghosh, who officiated in pre-World Cup and pre-Olympic tournaments, died of prolonged illness at his residence here on Thursday. He was 70 and is survived by his wife and two sons. "He was not keeping well for the past few days, and he breathed his last around 3 am this morning," a Bengal referee said. Born on April 10, 1952, Ghosh became a FIFA referee in 1990 and retired in 1997. He officiated in pre-World Cup and pre-Olympics tournaments, AFC Club Championships, SAFF Cup and the Jawaharlal Nehru Cup among others.

Ruud beats qualifier Jarry

AFP @ Seoul

WORLD No 2 Casper Ruud advanced to the quarterfinals in Seoul on Thursday after battling through a tight round-of-16 game with 111th-ranked Nicolas Jarry.

Top seed Ruud got off to a fast start against Jarry — who entered the Korea Open through the qualifiers — quickly winning the first set 6-2. But Jarry overpowered Ruud to win the second set 6-3, before Ruud bounced back to take the third set 6-3 and win the match.

"The first set went very well, but in the second set it was tough to break him. I had to work hard and I was very happy to get the win in the end," Ruud said.

The match lasted an hour and 43 minutes. The 23-year-old Norwegian will face Yoshihito Nishioka of Japan in the quarterfinals on Friday.

Ruud rose to World No 2 after reaching the final of the US Open earlier this month. The Korea Open is the first ATP tournament he has played since then, having competed in the Laver Cup in London last week. "My goal for this year is to finish in the top three in the ranking," he said, "but there are many good players that probably feel the same, so if I can do that I'll be very happy".

Second seed Cameron Norrie also advanced to the quarterfinals on Thursday, while third seed Taylor Fritz withdrew due to illness.

Norrie powered his way after a dominant 6-2 6-2 victory over Kaichi Uchida.

The 27-year-old Briton has won two titles this year, making it into the top 10 for the first time in his career and reaching the semifinals at Wimbledon.

He wasted no time taking down Japan's Uchida, breaking two of his serves in each set for a quick victory in one hour and three minutes.

Norrie has said he plans to use the Korea and Japan Open to push his way into the top eight on the Pepperstone ATP Live Race To Turin, to qualify for a spot at the season-ending Nitto ATP Finals in November.

Norrie's push to Turin got a boost on Thursday when Taylor Fritz, who was the third seed in Seoul, withdrew from the tournament due to injury.

Sakkari through, Stephens loses

PARMA: Top-seeded Maria Sakkari rallied past Arantxa Rus 3-6, 6-2, 6-3 on Wednesday to reach the quarterfinals of the Parma Ladies Open.

Sakkari, who accepted a late wild card to the red clay court tournament, was playing her first event since losing to Wang Xiyu in the second round of the U.S. Open. The Greek player will next face Maryna Zanevska of Belgium after she eased past Dalma Galfi 6-1, 6-3. Fourth-seeded Sloane Stephens of the United States, the 2017 US Open champion, lost to Danka Kovinic 7-5, 2-6, 7-5. Kovinic will face Jasmine Paolini in the quarterfinals after the Italian defeated compatriot Elisabetta Cocciaretto 4-6, 6-3, 6-4.

UWW: Changes in Oly quota places

PTI @ New Delhi

THE top-five and not top-six wrestlers at the World Championships will earn quota places for the 2024 Paris Games in each of the 18 weight categories. This change was announced by the world governing body, United World Wrestling (UWW).

The 18 quota places taken away from the 2023 World Championships, the first event offering quotas, have been added to the World Qualifiers, which will be the last chance for wrestlers to secure spots for the Paris Games. UWW president, Nenad Lalovic, was quoted as saying by the official website on Wednesday that the changes are aimed at creating "further fairness in the distribution between the World Championships and the World Qualifiers."

The World Championships is set to be held in Russia from September 16-24. Apart from the 2023 World Championships, the continental qualifiers (Asia, Africa, Pan-America, European) in 2024, and the 2024 World Olympics Qualifiers will also offer quota for the Games.

Earlier, 108 quotas were awarded at the Worlds (six per Olympic weight) but now 90 quota places will be on offer.

From India Bajrang Punia (65kg), Ravi Dahiya (57kg), Deepak Punia (86kg) and Vinesh Phogat (53kg) had qualified for the Tokyo Games through the 2019 Worlds in Nur Sultan while Anshu Malik (57kg), Sonam Malik (62kg) had qualified through the Asian event in Almaty. Heavyweight wrestler Sumit Malik (125kg) had qualified through the World Qualifiers in Sofia, Bulgaria.

In Russia next year, all four medallists (gold, silver and two bronze winners) will secure the quotas for their respective nations and the two bronze medal play-offs losers will contest for the fifth spot. A total of 144 wrestlers will qualify for Paris through the continental qualifying events (Asian, African, Pan-American and European). The top two wrestlers in each Olympic weight class will get one spot each for their NOCs. The quota winners at the 2023 Worlds will not be eligible to participate in the continental qualifiers unless they participate in a different style.

Unused quotas due to withdrawal, doping offence, or non-participation, will be transferred to the next best wrestler of that weight category of the tournament.

Serie A's first woman referee to make debut

AFP @ Milan

ITALY'S Serie A is set to have its first match officiated by a woman after the country's referee association AIA confirmed on Wednesday that Maria Sole Ferrieri Caputi would take charge of a game this weekend. In July Ferrieri Caputi was promoted to the top rung of Italian football's match officials and local media report that she will be assigned Sassuolo's home clash with Salernitana on Sunday afternoon.

"This isn't any old day, I'm pretty emotional," said AIA president Alfredo Trentalange.

Speaking at a press conference in Rome, he did not confirm which match Ferrieri Caputi would be given.

FIFA WORLD CUP

Covid vaccinations not mandatory for fans and players: Qatar

AFP @ Doha

CORONAVIRUS vaccinations will not be mandatory for the million-plus fans going to the World Cup in Qatar this year, the Gulf state said on Thursday.

But players and match officials may be forced into a secure "bio-bubble" if Covid-19 cases take off again, with the threat of expulsion from the tournament for those who breach the secure environment, the health ministry said.

The 29-day tournament will be the first major global sporting event with fans since the eruption in December 2019 of the Covid pandemic, which has since killed more than six million people. Qatari organisers, who have predicted that more than one million people will pack Doha for the matches, and football's governing body, FIFA, have said they want the event to be a sign the world is getting over the devastating pandemic.

But Qatar's health ministry warned in its World Cup guidelines that special measures would be ordered "in the event of a worsening pandemic situation in the country", such as the emergence of a threatening new variant. With Covid-19 currently considered under control, "there will be no vaccination requirement for participants and visiting spectators," the ministry said.

All visitors aged over six will have to produce negative Covid-19 tests before taking flights to Qatar for the tournament that starts November 20.

Fans will have to wear masks in public transport but authorities are only recommending the use of masks at the eight stadiums in the Doha region where matches will be played.

Anyone who tests positive for Covid-19 in Qatar will have to isolate for five days, the guidelines added.

Organisers and FIFA are most worried about the first two weeks of the tournament when four matches a day are planned and the peak number of supporters from the 32 competing nations will be packing stadiums, fan zones and tourist spots.

Some estimates say there could be up to 350,000 visiting fans in Doha at the same time during the weekend of November 26-27. Officials say Doha airport and the city's roads will be facing peak pressure that weekend.

Because of the pressure on accommodation, only fans with tickets can enter Qatar from November 1, though each person with a ticket is allowed to invite three guests.

Each person entering the country must download a special fan pass, a Hayya card, and Qatar's anti-Covid health application, Ehteraz.

The app has to be shown at the entrance to metro stations and most shopping malls.

"If metro stations and malls want to check the app, then people need to be ready for some queues," said one tourism consultant who is advising a major chain of hotels in Qatar.

Other measures may also be difficult to enforce because of the shear numbers, experts said.

The ministry is recommending a one metre (three feet) space between diners in cafes and restaurants.

Qatar's health ministry said it would force players, referees and officials to stay in a secure "bio-bubble" if coronavirus cases take off "to allow for the safe operation and continuation of the event."

Hotel rooms, training facilities and transport to and from stadiums would all be sealed off.

"Breaching the bubble arrangement may result in an immediate dismissal of the violator from the event and removal from event hotel and accommodation," the ministry said.

MAIN POINTS TO KEEP IN MIND

- Need not to be vaccinated
- Bio-bubbles for players and officials if need be
- Officials and players may face expulsion
- Fans need a negative Covid-19 test before entering Qatar
- Each person entering country must have Qatar's health app, Ehteraz

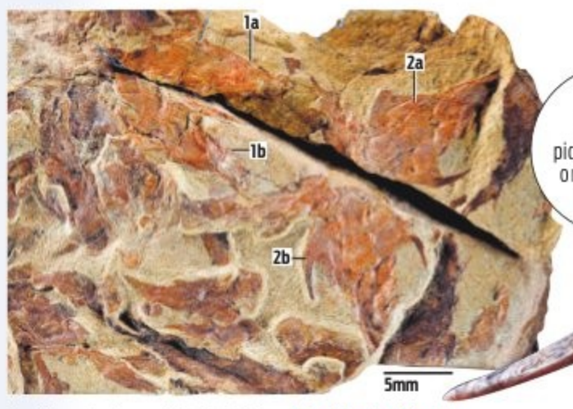
Fish fossils found in China offer clues on human evolution

Fish fossils dating back 440 million years are helping to "fill some of the key gaps" on how humans evolved from fish, according to the researchers and the published in four papers in the journal Nature



The Chongqing Lagerstätte, dated from 439 million to 436 million years ago, is a newly discovered diverse assemblage of fossils bearing some of the earliest jawed fishes. This slab from the site contains two newly named fish species, the ancient shark and ray relative Shenacanthus vermiformis (1a and 1b) and an armored jawed fish, Xiushanosteus mirabilis (2a and 2b).

OLDEST JAWED FISH

"This is the oldest jawed fish with known anatomy. The new data allowed us to... gain much needed information about the evolutionary steps leading to the origin of important vertebrate adaptations such as jaws, sensory systems, and paired appendages (limbs)," lead researcher Zhu Min said

UNIQUE FOSSILS

The Chongqing fossils are also the world's only fossils dating back nearly 440 million years which 'preserves complete, head-to-tail jawed fishes', offering a rare peek into a time period regarded as the 'dawn of fishes'

TRACING BACK BODY STRUCTURES

The fossils "help to trace many human body structures back to ancient fishes, some 440 million years ago, and fill some key gaps in the evolution of from fish to human," researchers from the Institute of Vertebrate Paleontology and Paleoanthropology (IVPP) under the Chinese Academy of Sciences said

Their findings, which they said "provide further iron evidence to the evolutionary path"

BUSTING THE THEORY

Scientists in 2013 said they had found a 419-million-year-old fish fossil in China that disproved the long-held theory that modern animals with bony skeletons (osteichthyans) evolved from a shark-like creature with a frame made of cartilage

ANCESTOR OF HUMANS

The Chongqing fossil deposit includes a fish—known as acanthodians—with bony armour around its fins and is considered the ancestor of creatures with jaws and a backbone, including humans

Russian gas pipeline springs a fourth leak

The Swedish Coast Guard confirmed there were four leaks in total on the pipeline in the Baltic Sea— two on the Swedish side and two on the Danish side

ENERGY

STOCKHOLM: A fourth leak has been detected in undersea gas pipelines linking Russia to Europe, the Swedish Coast Guard said on Thursday, after explosions were reported earlier this week in what NATO called "reckless" sabotage. The Nord Stream 1 and 2 pipelines link Russia to Germany, and have been at the centre of geopolitical tensions as Russia cut gas supplies to Europe in suspected retaliation against Western sanctions following Moscow's invasion of Ukraine. The Swedish Coast Guard confirmed on Thursday there were four leaks in total on the pipeline in the Baltic Sea—two on the Swedish side and two on the Danish side. Three leaks were previously reported. While the pipelines—operated by a consortium majority-owned by Russian gas giant Gazprom—are not currently in operation, they both still contained gas.

On Thursday, NATO declared that the damage was "the result of deliberate, reckless and irresponsible acts of sabotage". "These leaks are causing risks to shipping and substantial environmental damage," the Western military alliance said in a statement.

Russia has denied it was behind the explosions—as did the US, saying Moscow's suggestion it would damage the pipeline was "ridiculous". Russia's security service launched an "international terrorism" investigation into the gas leaks, saying the damage had caused "significant economic damage to the Russian Federation". The UN Security Council will meet on Friday to discuss the matter. The vast leaks have caused underwater gas plumes, with significant bubbling at the surface of the sea several hundred metres wide, making it impossible to immediately inspect the structures.

Seismic institutes on Tuesday reported they had recorded "in all likelihood" explosions in the area, prior to the leaks being detected. A Swedish Coast Guard search and rescue vessel was patrolling the area.

"The crew reports that the flow of gas visible on the surface is constant," the agency said in a statement. Danish authorities said the leaks will continue until the gas in the pipelines is exhausted, which is expected to occur on Sunday. Fatih Birol, executive director of the International Energy Agency, said at a symposium in Paris that to him it was "very obvious" who was behind the leaks.

He said natural gas shortages in the wake of the war in Ukraine could make for a tough winter in Europe. "In the absence of a major negative surprise, I think Europe, in terms of natural gas, can survive this winter with a lot of bruises in our bodies in terms of prices, economy and social issues, but we can go through that," Birol said.

BBC TO CUT JOBS AT WORLD SERVICE

PRESS

LONDON: Nearly 400 staff at BBC World Service will lose their jobs as part of a cost-cutting programme and move to digital platforms, the broadcaster announced on Thursday, paring down its Iranian-language service among others.

The BBC, which marks its centenary next month, said its international services needed to make savings of £28.5 million as part of wider reductions of £500 million, which unions blamed on UK government.

In July the broadcaster detailed plans to merge BBC World News television and its domestic UK equivalent into a single channel to launch in April next year. BBC World Service—one of the UK's most recognisable global brands—currently operates in 41 languages around the world with a weekly audience of some 364 million people. But the corporation said audience habits were changing and more people were accessing news online, which along with a freeze on BBC funding and increased operating costs meant a move to "digital-first".

India among top 40 in Innovation Index

DEVELOPMENT

NEW DELHI: India climbed six notches to 40th position in the Global Innovation Index 2022 on account of improvement in several parameters, according to a report by the Geneva-based World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO).

Switzerland, the United States, Sweden, the United Kingdom and the Netherlands are the world's most-innovative economies, according to WIPO's 2022 Global Innovation Index (GII), with China on the threshold of the top 10. Other emerging economies are also showing consistently strong performance, including India and T'rkiye, both of which enter the top 40 for the first time, it said.

"Canada is back among the top 15 global innovators (15th). T'rkiye (37th) and India (40th) enter the top 40 for the first time," the report said.

"India's innovation performance is above average for the upper middle-income group in almost every innovation pillar, with the exception of infrastructure, where it scores below average," it said.

Commenting on the development, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said the country is ready to scale further in terms of innovation.

"Innovation is the buzzword across India. Proud of our innovators. We've come a long way and want to scale even newer heights," Modi said in a tweet. Commerce and industry minister Piyush Goyal described the progress as a "huge leap", which testifies India's emergence as a "global innovation hub". "India Innovating Like Never Before! India climbs to the 40th rank in the Global Innovation Index of @WIPO, a huge leap of 41 places in 7 years. The steady rise testifies that India under the leadership of PM @NarendraModiji is rapidly emerging as the global innovation hub," Goyal tweeted.

India was at 46th position in 2021 and at 81st rank in 2015.

Parameters for computing the index, include 'institutions', 'human capital and research', 'infrastructure', 'market sophistication', business sophistication', 'knowledge and technology outputs' and 'create outputs'.

18th Convocation of KIIT Deemed to be University

The past few years have been marked by a period of uncertainty when the Covid-induced challenges threatened to derail the academic discipline. Online classes, hybrid teaching and home learning came to be identified as the new normal. The time since the beginning of 2020 was unprecedented in many ways, especially for students who spent much of their time taking lessons at home. Equally challenging before us was to maintain academic rigour through the online mode as we place a high value on the standard of technical education. Amid such a level of stress, the batch of 2022 has performed well with its perseverance and resilience. The University stood all along with the students in these difficult times, supporting them all the way in their quest for academic excellence.

Climbing On Rankings

KIIT began as a routine educational institution but quickly rose to the top of the charts for all national and international rankings. This growth was fueled by an unwavering commitment to helping communities. As we commemorate 25 years of academic achievement, we are filled with a sense of pride in our achievements. KIIT has redefined the education landscape in the country. It has earned what it deserved, global acclaim and reputation in a very short period - 8th best University in the world in the prestigious Times Higher Education Impact Rankings 2022 for the impressive progress made in 'reducing inequalities' (SDG10). KIIT has been placed in the cohorts of 201-250 in the overall category among Asian universities by the Times Higher Education (THE) ranking of Asia's best universities for 2022.

The national ranking of 20th position all over India by the National Institute of Ranking Framework, Ministry of Education is exemplary. The prestigious Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology (ABET), USA has accredited KIIT Deemed to be University's six engineering programs. With this 'Gold Standard', KIIT has become the only institution in the country to have accreditation from ABET (USA) in all six engineering programmes besides also being accredited by all the statutory bodies of the Govt of India. It is the first Indian University to achieve a "Five Stars Rating" from the prestigious QS Star Ranking System.

Hand Holding and supporting the Initiative of KISS

KIIT has been supporting and mentoring the Kalinga Institute of Social Sciences (KISS) for 25 years now. KISS is a home for 70,000 indigenous children (30,000 alumni and 30,000 currently pursuing education on the campus and 10,000 students on satellite campuses) who are provided with accommodation, nutrition, holistic education, skills and sports empowerment fully free of cost. Its higher education constituent, KISS Deemed to be University, is the only university in the world exclusively for indigenous scholars. KIIT's support has enabled KISS to get the most coveted prize in the realm of literacy - the UNESCO International Literacy Prize 2022. Such a marvellous achievement would not have been possible, had KIIT not gotten the back of KISS.

A Look through Window of Knowledge

KIIT has made immense contributions to Education, Healthcare, Sustainable Development, Literature and Culture, and more specifically Sports. KIIT and KISS have become the Knowledge and Logistical Hub of FIFA's 'Football For School' for Odisha, India and South Asia. It is a first-of-its-kind collaboration of FIFA with any academic institution in the world.KIIT and KISS have made exemplary contributions to the field of Sports. KIIT has nurtured and produced seven Olympians who are pursuing their education at KIIT free of cost and are being wholeheartedly supported in all their endeavours in the field of Sports. It is pertinent to mention here that KIIT and KISS have produced over 5000 sportspersons playing at different zonal, state and international levels.

Prof. Achyuta Samanta

KIIT A Global Village

No argument should be enough to contest the reality that KIIT Deemed-to-be University stands out as it is a student and parent-friendly University. A humongous number, 35000 Students from all over India and 1500 students from 65 countries study here and find a home in the University, which is a melting pot of culture. The university has triggered a wave of development in the northern fringes of Bhubaneswar, making it a hub of economic activity. KIIT is a world in itself that espouses the cause of 'World is One.

Record Placements

KIIT is known for its excellent track record of placements since its inception. We have been able to achieve excellent placements for 2019-20 and 2020-21 batches despite the pandemic. Keeping up with our past trend, KIIT is on its way to achieving record placement for the 2022 and 2023 graduating batches due to the dedicated efforts of our training and placement department. Our students have bagged 5000 job offers, with the highest CTC of 52 Lakhs and an average of 6.05 lakhs. It is not an easy task to accomplish given the circumstances - trimming company sizes and lay-offs.

Beyond The Normal

It is the only University in India to have been visited by 22 Nobel laureates from across the globeand has addressed the students. Over hundreds of collaborations have been made with universities far and wide across the globe. We are facilitating student and faculty exchanges, research collaborations and membership in international associations for cooperation in raising standards of education and making KIIT a global brand. The students and staff have worked relentlessly to help KIIT reach commendable heights. We are glad to receive the students back to the campus after two years of lull. We have recalibrated our campus so that our students learn and grow with all safety precautions and protocols in mind.

For the batch graduating in 2022, my message would be that 'you are lucky to attend this Convocation in person. We have endeavoured to provide the most personal touch through the use of technology and augmented reality for this Convocation - 18th Convocation of KIIT Deemed to be University -- for those who cannot make it to the event in person. The 18th Convocation of KIIT Deemed to be University will be graced by the visionary and compassionate Chief Minister of Odisha Shri Naveen Patnaik as the Chief Guest. Dr. Rigoberta Menchu Tum, Nobel Peace Laureate 1992 will deliver the Convocation lecture in presence of esteemed guests like Mr John Desmond Forbes Anderson (Lord Waverley) Hon'ble Member of British Parliament, UK.

To the Class of 2022, I truly associate with your feeling as you are upset about not being able to stay on this wonderful campus for a long time. I urge everyone to pursue every ambition and dream and embrace the responsibility to build this community as their priority. Let me reiterate that you are and will always be kings and queens, like your hostels say, Kings Palace and Queens Castle. Go kiss the world and move in the direction of your calling and always try to be good humans first.
